THE POLITICAL CAMPAIGN.

THE CONTEST IN OHIO.

A DEMOCRATIC SCHEME FOR FRAUDULENT VOTING—CARL SCHURZ'S INFLUENCE IN THE CONTEST—THE JOINT DISCUSSION ON THE FINANCIAL QUESTION—THE LEADING ISSUES IN THE FIGHT.

From Our Own Correspondent.

COLUMBUS, Wednesday, Sept. 29, 1875.

In my last letter I gave the Democratic managers credit for more poverty, and consequently more honesty, than they seem to deserve. The Democratic Committee, I said, did not seem to have arranged for any organization of frauds at the polls, and, generally speaking, I think this statement is true. But there is an exception in this case, as there is said to be to every rule. It is in Cincinnati. Information of the most undoubted character has been received, which shows that fraudulent voting and repeating, and false counting if possible, are to be attempted in that city by the Democrats. There is no registration of citizens, and no protection against non-resident voters except in the acquaintance men have with their neighbors. The plan is to import from Kentucky vast numbers of vagabonds and rascals, lodge them in Cincinnati a few days before election, train them to business, and march them round to vote at the different polling places as many times as possible. New-York well understands the methods and the consequences of the system. To some extent the same frauds will be attempted all along the river line, but the results are not to be feared except in Cincinnati. These operations cost money, which the city Democrats can afford to contribute, for two reasons: In the first place the election of the Hamilton County Republican ticket, with Hayes and a Republican Legislature, would destroy the local rings which plunder the people. Self-preservation demands of the thieving rings a desperate struggle. They gather the people's taxes and use them to defeat the people's will. In the second place, if the cost came out of their own pockets instead of the people's, the amount would be regarded as only a speculative investment, which would be returned with profit by success in the election. That the scheme is to be undertaken, with the approval and advice of their State Committee, cannot be doubted, but the necessary amount of money is raised, and the work done, by the local Democratic organization.

Some intimations of these attempted frauds have been made during the past two weeks, but the Republican Committees have been slow to credit the reports. Protective measures will now be taken and a vigilant watch established. The laws regulating elections are so loose that some fraudulent votes for Allen will undoubtedly get counted, but it is believed that the accomplishment of the vast frauds contemplated can be prevented. An honest vote in Hamilton County would elect the Republican ticket, or at least reduce the Democratic majority very low, but if the vote should be very close, the result of the election of Governor might be reversed by a small fraudulent vote. Meantime the Cincinnati advocate of a city at Newport News, and speculations in coal lands, the paper which Carl Schurz calls "the feeding-pipe of wisdom" for the inflationists, is shrieking that the State is to be bought up by the money of the national banks. If the national banks take any especial interest in this contest, by the way, they should not delay their contributions. The Republican Committee has not heard from them nor the Eastern capitalists, but would like a small remittance immediately. Contributions from the bloated bond-holders, and even Federal office-holders, would be gratefully accepted. The money kings and Wall street brokers act very much as though they thought they could take care of themselves, even if the inflationists should make money cheap and plenty. Some of them would seem to be investing money in the Democratic inflation cause as in any other gambling speculation.

CARL SCHURZ'S SPEECHES.

Carl Schurz is having an influence that can scarce be estimated. It is not alone, nor chiefly, the few thousands who will be able to hear him who will be reached by his speech. It has already been printed and circulated by the hundreds of thousands, both in English and German. Because the speech is Schurz's, it will be read, and because it is strong, clear, and convincing, rather than because Schurz made it, the speech will have influence. Since leaving Cincinnati he makes little use of his manuscript, but follows the same line of argument. He gains by this course a stronger hold upon his audience. Wherever he speaks he is greeted by thousands, many of whom have traveled far to see him. The Democratic papers do not print his speech, nor discuss it. They imitate the ostrich, stick their heads in the ground, and close their ears as well as they can. The charge has been made that he is paid a great price for his speeches, and notwithstanding the authoritative statement that he would not accept even his expenses, the Democratic papers persist in ignoring the denial. Then they charge him with being a foreigner, and holding a foreigner's sentiments on the money question, which is a ludicrous complaint for those papers to make which have been denouncing as Know Nothings the advocates of free public schools. The same cheerful organs playfully speak of Gen. Woodford as the agent or the attorney of the Eastern bondholders. They have reprinted the old charges against Woodford made by the Democrats during his canvass against Gov. Hoffman, and A. Oakey Hall has done a very manly thing in withdrawing those charges in an open letter which he sent by special messenger to the Cleveland papers.

THE JOINT DISCUSSION ON THE FINANCIAL QUESTION.

The joint discussion which has finally been arranged between Gen. Woodford and Gen. Ewing begins to-morrow evening, at a little out of the way place called Shawnee, in the coal region. The next meeting is at Ewing's own town of Lancaster. The meetings grow out of Woodford's acceptance of the general challenge of the blatherskite humbug Cary to all the world, and to Gen. Woodford in particular, addressing him, however, through insinuations, and not by name. Cary did not mean his challenge to be accepted, and when it was accepted he promptly declined. Any joint discussion would destroy the effectiveness of his communistic appeals, and he is, during the last days of the canvass, going among the class of people whom he expects most to influence by his base and indecent harangues. Cary's refusal to stand by his challenge left the Democratic Committee in an awkward position, and they brought out a challenge from Ewing to cover Cary's collapse. Woodford could not refuse, nor did he wish to, though I think the Democrats expected some excuse from him. The meetings will attract immense audiences, and there is little doubt that Woodford will take good care that the cause of honest money shall suffer no detriment.

THE LEADING ISSUES.

The inflation question, or, more broadly, the financial question, has become the leading issue in all parts of the State, and will remain the leading issue to the end. By some speakers and papers the school question has been persistently pushed to the front. It is an important issue, and must receive consideration. But it must in this canvass hold a subordinate place, to which it has now been remitted. Indeed, in the last week the financial issues have become so much magnified that the school question has for the time being been treated with neglect. All efforts by either party to set aside the discussion of inflation have been ludicrous failures. Buell, the persecuted, was imported to talk about the gag-law, but nobody cares about that, and the newspapers do not refer to it. A Mr. Allen, from Washington, (I hope he will pardon the designation, but really I never heard of him before,) was brought here to "pitch" into the District Ring, but the inflation Ring is now on the stage, and all rings heretofore in existence are insignificant compared with it. This Mr. Allen makes no sensation. Senator Thurman has talked about official corruption, and Credit Mobiliers, and abused the Administration without arousing a cheer. Senator Morton, in his discussion of Southern affairs, has undoubtedly struck a chord of sentiment that is deeper and stronger than those who laugh about the "bloody shirt" imagine; but the Southern question cannot come into this canvass. Curiously enough no Democrat has attacked the constitutional amendments or denounced negro suffrage, or expressed any fear that his daughter would have to marry a "nigger" on account of the Civil Rights act. Indian frauds, whisky frauds, investigations, the administration of President Grant, all the things which Senator Thurman advised should be made the capital stock of his party, are sunk out of sight, and the only questions on which discussion is patiently heard are, Shall there be inflation? and shall the free public school system be maintained?

The issues have assumed such form that there can be no quibbling when the election returns are in as to what they mean, especially if the majority be large. If Allen is elected it will be an unquestioned victory for inflation. If Hayes is elected by a large majority, it will be clearly a hard-money triumph. If he should have but a small majority, I suspect Senator Thurman would repeat some of his Put-in-Bay remarks about the —— priests sticking their noses in politics, and many would believe Hayes' election was due to the effects of the school question. To make the death of inflation sure, Hayes must have a good, round majority, and in the past ten days Republicans have become more confident than ever that he will get it.

SECOND OF THE WOODFORD-EWING DISCUSSIONS—GEN. EWING SUCCESSFULLY ASSAILED ON HIS OWN GROUND.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 1.—The second joint discussion between Gen. Woodford and Gen. Ewing took place at Lancaster this afternoon. The City Hall, holding perhaps eight hundred people, was densely packed. Lancaster, a city of some twelve or fourteen thousand inhabitants, is the home of Gen. Ewing, and is strongly Democratic. It was manifest before the debate began that Woodford had to address what might be called a packed jury. The audience was made up largely of Democrats and neighbors and personal friends of Ewing, determined to cheer every time he gave them a chance. He opened the discussion, and, ignoring the inflation question, declared the real issue of the Ohio campaign to be whether the Resumption bill should stand or be repealed. That bill he proceeded to discuss in detail, drawing a dismal picture of the horrors of resumption in 1879. Woodford opened in an exceedingly happy and effective manner, and in ten minutes had drawn from the audience louder and longer applause than any that had greeted Ewing. Having very skillfully established himself in the favor of the audience, with equal skill he demolished Ewing's argument on the Resumption act, and turned the discussion back to the inflation issue and dealt with it very effectively. Ewing, in closing, was evidently much disturbed and failed to reconstruct his shattered argument. Woodford surprised those who had expected most from him, and the Republicans are delighted. Ewing is a very able man, a courteous gentleman, as is Woodford, and the meetings are high toned and free from personalities of all kinds. These meetings now divide the attention of the people with the speeches of Carl Schurz.

THE MARYLAND CAMPAIGN.

RATIFICATION MEETING OF REPUBLICANS AND REFORMERS IN BALTIMORE.

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 1.—The Republican and Citizens' Reform Party held an immense ratification mass-meeting on Monument square to-night. Fully 10,000 people were on the square, and adjacent streets. Hon. J. Morrison Harris, their candidate for Governor, and others addressed the meeting. At the same time the Democrats held a meeting at the Maryland Institute, which was crowded, and addressed by Hon. Richard Vaux, of Philadelphia, Hon. William Pinckney White, and others. Owing to the close proximity of the meetings it was apprehended that some difficulty might occur between the ward processions of the two parties, as they met or passed each other on the streets, but the apprehension proved unfounded. Several pistol-shots were fired in the air and a number of knockdowns occurred, but no serious disturbance or injury to any one is recorded.

THE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD DISASTER.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 1.—The verdict of the Coroner's jury in the case of the late railroad disaster on the Pennsylvania Railroad, near Frankford, is to the effect that the disaster was the result of criminal negligence on the part of Anthony Evans, acting engineer of the dummy, in not using the proper precaution at so dangerous a crossing. Evans was thereupon committed to await the action of the Grand Jury.

SUIT AGAINST P. T. BARNUM.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Oct. 1.—In the Common Pleas Court, in this city, yesterday, the Americus Racing Association and International Hippodrome commenced suit against P. T. Barnum for $50,000 damages for libel against the plaintiffs, in that defendant, since the 20th of May, 1875, had endeavored to injure, break down, and ruin plaintiffs in their business, and had labored and spent large sums of money in that effort.

HEAVY FAILURE IN THE LUMBER TRADE.

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 1.—The Evening Journal says: "It is reported that Shepard, Hall & Co., the extensive lumber dealers of this city, have suspended, with liabilities amounting to about $1,500,000. The failure has caused considerable comment in financial circles, as numerous Boston banks hold nearly $1,000,000 of the paper of the suspended firm. A Montreal bank also has about $200,000 of the paper, and another bank in that city has $100,000. It is stated that only about twenty per cent. of the indebtedness is in business paper. The failure is attributed to the long depression in the lumber trade."

THE MINERS' CONSPIRACY.

TRIAL OF SINEY AND PARKS—THE OPENING ARGUMENT FOR THE DEFENSE.

CLEARFIELD, Penn., Oct. 1.—In the Siney and Parks trial to-day, the prosecution concluded with their principal witness, Capt. Thomas E. Clark, of Philadelphia, who corroborated the evidence of the previous witnesses.

Mr. Carpenter then opened for the defense as follows:

While the indictment in this case was undoubtedly good, because it set out with great detail and particularity the nature of the combination and means agreed upon to carry it into execution, it cast upon the Commonwealth the burden of proving the conspiracy as laid. It could not be charged in the indictment that the defendants entered into a conspiracy to accomplish a purpose by specified illegal means, and their conviction be had upon proof of another object or the accomplishment of the same object by other means. To insure the conviction of Siney and Parks, the jury must believe from the testimony that a combination had been formed between them and others, or between others, and that they subsequently became parties to it, because this was necessary in order to accomplish the precise purpose of the indictment by the precise means charged in the indictment. Siney and Parks, in doing the several things alleged against them, had acted as officers of the Miners' National Union. These were legal acts, and could not be assigned against the defendants as criminality. The Commonwealth had attempted to establish that the defendants, as officers of the Miners' National Union, were conspirators ex officio, but the constitution and by-laws of the association negatived this charge, and showed that the policy of the association was to discountenance strikes, except as a last resort, and that when resorted to they should be confined to mere suspension of work, and all violence should be avoided. The conduct of Siney and Parks was clearly within this undoubted right, and all the evidence established that this was a peaceable exercise of rights, as contradistinguished from a turbulent, drunken or dissolute disturbance of the peace, nothing having been done which the law did not authorize.

The argument to the jury will be made by F. W. Hughes for the defense and by Senator Wallace for the prosecution.

A SWITCHMAN'S CARELESSNESS.

A FIREMAN AND SWITCHMAN KILLED BY THE LATTER'S NEGLECT OF DUTY.

RUTLAND, Vt., Oct. 1.—A serious and painful accident occurred on the Rensselaer and Saratoga Railroad, in Fairhaven Village, at 5 o'clock this morning. The engine Ticonderoga, No. 137, with Richard Nelson, engineer; John Shea, fireman, and James Carswell, assistant, after helping the Schenectady freight train for Rutland from Whitehall to Castleton, went back to Fair Haven and lay off upon the marble yard switch, about a quarter of a mile west of Fairhaven Depot, according to its frequent custom, to wait until the local freight, No. 27, comes up before returning to Whitehall. Engineer Nelson says that it was Carswell's duty to attend to the switch, and that after they had run on to the switch Carswell came aboard the engine, when he asked him if everything was all right, and he replied "Yes," that he had closed and locked the switch. The locomotive had to remain there some time before the local freight came along, and in the meantime Shea and Carswell fell asleep. When the local freight train came up Nelson saw, to his consternation, that the switch was open and the train coming right upon him. He immediately turned on the steam, shouted to awaken his companions, Shea and Carswell, and jumped from the engine. The freight train, which was drawn by two engines, struck the Ticonderoga before it reached the end of the switch and threw it nearly bottom upward down an embankment, instantly killing and mangling beyond recognition Shea and Carswell. The railroad officials say that Carswell was put on the engine for the express purpose of attending the switch. It appears in this instance, instead of closing the switch, he had opened and locked it back. Carswell was a single man and lived in Salem, N. Y. Shea was married and leaves a wife and two children in Whitehall. The engine Montreal, No. 138, of the freight train was also thrown from the track and much damaged, and its fireman had a narrow escape.

AN ALCOHOLIC EXPLOSION.

THE LOUISVILLE COFFIN WORKS BLOWN UP BY AN EXPLOSION OF ALCOHOLIC VAPORS.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 1.—An explosion of alcoholic vapors occurred in the Louisville Coffin Works this morning, setting fire to the establishment and burning four men, two seriously. The fire was first occasioned by two boys who entered the cellar with a lamp, the glass frame of which was broken in drawing alcohol from a barrel, and a slight fire was caused by the ignition of some alcohol by the lamp flame, and in their haste to get out of the cellar the boys forgot to turn off the faucet of the barrel, and, though the flames were soon extinguished, the alcohol continued flowing, and when several men went into the cellar a short time afterward with another lamp, an explosion occurred. Eli Johnson, the foreman, was dangerously burned on the head, face, and body. Henry Risley was burned in the same way. John Yeager was burned on the arms, face, and head. The first two, it is supposed, will die from their injuries, but the last is not seriously injured. William Reynolds was also burned severely while assisting in extinguishing the flames, which soon enveloped and destroyed half of the establishment. The loss is estimated at $12,000, with an insurance of half the amount in the following companies: Pennsylvania, of Pennsylvania; Firemen's Fund, of New-York; North-western National, of Milwaukee; Farmers' and Drovers', of Louisville, $1,500 each.

No troops have passed for five days, and the roads are in the hands of the insurgents. Austrian official telegrams state that the Turkish troops were repulsed near Klek yesterday. The fighting was renewed to-day, but with what result is not known.

A telegram from the Governor of Bosnia announces that in consequence of the advantages recently gained over the insurgents, telegraphic communication has been re-established between Navesing and Gatchko. The Vienna evening papers publish a telegram dated Ragusa to-day, stating that several sanguinary engagements have taken place in Herzegovina between a body of 1,200 insurgents and 4,000 Turks. The first was fought on the 28th ult., near Klepavitza, and two engagements followed on the 29th and 30th, near Praptrizza. The insurgents lost fifty-six men, and estimate the loss of the Turks at 500. On account of their inferior numbers the insurgents were obliged to retreat.

The Morning Standard to-day publishes a special telegram from Paris containing the following: "At the regular semi-monthly meeting of the Permanent Committee yesterday the Marquis of Plœuc called attention to the sham telegrams about the Herzegovinian insurrection, which he said were manufactured in the interest of unscrupulous stock-jobbers. A Constantinople dispatch says: "Instructions have been sent to Server Pasha to receive the reports of the foreign Consuls, but not to enter into any negotiations with them."

A Vienna dispatch says: "Count Andrassy, in answer to questions of the Austrian Parliamentary delegation, stated that the accounts of the participation of inhabitants of Servia and Montenegro in the insurrection in Turkey were much exaggerated. Everything had been done to prevent the participation of the mass of the people. As far as human foresight went, he considered universal peace assured. The sole interest of Austria was the maintenance of peace for the development of her internal resources."

Buffet thought the Ministers should examine the matter in the special Cabinet council held to-day. The question of the publication of the speech came up, and after explanations the incident was settled. Consequently, there will be no Ministerial changes, as was apprehended. The Journal Officiel will publish the speech to-morrow, with a letter from Mr. Say explaining the objectionable passage. The letter was read in the Cabinet meeting and approved.

Benjamin Noyes, the President, gave an answer in writing, stating that he had been advised by counsel that the law under which the Commissioner claimed to act was unconstitutional and void, and that the Commissioner's bond was illegal and insufficient. He added that he did not intend to resist the law, but would hold the assets subject to the orders of the courts having jurisdiction of the legal questions involved. The Commissioner's counsel then informed Mr. Noyes that he should apply to the New-London Superior Court to-morrow for a writ of mandamus, and that he should hold him liable under the criminal law. THE ARMY OF THE TENNESSEE.

THE BANQUET AND THE TOASTS—GEN. SHERMAN REPLIES TO HIS CRITICS.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Oct. 1.—The reunion of the Army of the Tennessee closed with a banquet at the Saveny House last night. The speech-making began at a late hour. The following were the regular toasts and responses: "Our Country, One and Indivisible;" response by Gen. M. M. Byne. "The President of the United States;" drank standing. "The State of Iowa and her Volunteers;" response by Gen. W. W. Belknap. "The March to the Sea, Happy in its Conception, Fortunate in its Leader, and Glorious in its Results;" response by Gen. W. T. Sherman. "The Army of the Cumberland;" response by Gen. Jeff. C. Davis. Other toasts were offered and appropriately responded to. The President occupied the central table, with Gen. Sherman on his left and Senator Wright on his right. In response to the toast of "The President of the United States," Gen. Grant responded in a few words returning thanks for the compliment. Speeches were made by Gens. Sherman, Pope, and Byne. Gen. Sherman dwelt at some length on the origin of the movement resulting in the march to the sea. In referring to his book, he said he wrote the book believing it to be true. He wanted to write it while the men who could correct its errors, if any there were, could yet do it. In reply to the criticisms that he should have gone from Altanta by way of Augusta, he declared that no one at that time ever proposed or hinted at such a thing; but now, he said, it is a very easy thing to go from Atlanta to the sea, and many men are brave enough to do it; but none of them in those days tried it or knew of a better way than was taken, or even proposed it.

The General's speech was not concluded until after midnight. Nearly all of the members of the society left for home on the early morning train. The President and party go to Denver.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—The official announcement is made that the San Francisco Stock Board will open for regular business next Tuesday at 11 A. M. The Pacific Exchange will open at the same time.

The Farmers' and Merchants' Bank of Los Angeles, which closed its doors when the Bank of California suspended, resumed business to-day; and Temple & Workman's Bank of that city will probably reopen to-morrow.

It is now said that the peculations of Pinney, the defaulting clerk of the Navy Department, will amount to over a million dollars.

Paymaster Cunningham entered on the duties of his office to-day, vice Spaulding, relieved.

The steamer Alaska sailed to-day for Hong Kong, via Yokohama.

THE SUSPENDED FIRM OF CLAYTON & CO. TO PAY FIFTY CENTS ON THE DOLLAR.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 1.—At an adjourned meeting, held this afternoon, of the creditors of Charles Clayton & Co., statements were submitted showing that the liabilities of the firm amounted to $340,078 99 and the assets to $352,471 70, composed chiefly of outstanding debts. A large portion of the assets being bad, or doubtful, the firm made a proposition to pay its creditors fifty cents on the dollar, in two equal installments, payable in six months, which was accepted and the business of the firm will be resumed. It is understood that if any surplus remains above the terms of settlement it will be divided pro rata among the creditors, but this forms no part of the contract.

AN EX-POSTMASTER CHARGED WITH EMBEZZLEMENT.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Oct. 1.—Considerable excitement has been created in the city by some developments in the official affairs of the late Postmaster, Arnahlt. A few days ago a former clerk in the office under Arnahlt published a card charging him with perjury and embezzlement in having collected and appropriated to his own use during the last four years some $3,880 rent for a news-stand in the Post Office building, which belonged to the Government. The following day Arnahlt replied, admitting he collected the money, but claimed that he did not collect it in person or give a receipt for it, and attempted to justify himself by saying a special agent of the department had authorized him to do so. It is not believed any agent sanctioned such proceedings, and the public await with much interest to see what action the Government agent will take in the case.

A PATRON OF EDUCATION.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Oct. 1.—A dispatch from Evansville, Ind., says Willard Carpenter, of that city, yesterday filed articles of association for the endowment of a great educational institution to be established in that city. The deeds will settle $500,000 on the institution, and Mr. Carpenter declares that after it shall have been established he will make a further gift of $200,000. Mr. Carpenter is an old man with a small family. His wealth is estimated at $2,000,000.

THE PORTLAND AND OGDENSBURG RAILROAD.

BOSTON, Oct. 1.—The temporary injunction against the Portland and Ogdensburg Railroad Company, restraining it from building its road through Carroll, Whitefield, and to a connection with the Vermont Division at Dalton, has been removed and arrangement made obviating all further trouble in that direction. The connection will now be made in a few weeks.

NED O'BALDWIN'S FUNERAL.

BOSTON, Oct. 1.—The funeral of the late Ned O'Baldwin, whose body was sent on from New-York, took place this afternoon from the residence of John McCaffrey. The services of the Catholic Church were conducted by Rev. Father James Donnegan. The remains were interred at Hollywood.

ARREST OF LIQUOR-DEALERS.

Capt. McCullagh last evening arrested seventy liquor-saloon keepers in the Seventeenth Precinct for selling liquor without a license. It would appear that an order was issued to the Captains of certain precincts directing the arrest of saloon-keepers who had no licenses, although they might have receipts from the Board of Excise for money paid on application for license. By some error this order was transmitted to the Seventeenth Precinct by the Police telegraph operator, and the arrests were made. Alderman Guntzer came to Central Office at midnight and laid the facts in reference to the matter before Inspector Dilks, who telegraphed to Superintendent Walling for instructions. The Superintendent ordered the discharge of the prisoners, and they were at once released from custody.

The National Convention of Pork-packers will begin its annual session at St. Louis next Tuesday.

Judge Miller, of the United States Circuit Court, refused to pass upon the sufficiency of the indictment against A. C. Buell, at St. Louis, yesterday, unless he was brought into court.

WASHINGTON.

THE REDUCTION OF THE DEBT.

THE DECREASE FOR THE PAST MONTH GREATER THAN IN THE PRECEDING TWO MONTHS—THE DECREASE IN NATIONAL BANK CIRCULATION.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—The debt statement for September shows a reduction in the public debt for the month of over three and one-fourth million dollars, and for the first quarter of the current fiscal year a reduction of six and one-quarter millions. The decrease made last month in the debt is greater than during the previous two months, while the decrease made for the quarter ending yesterday is nearly double the amount for the corresponding quarter of last year. This exhibit does not indicate that the finances of the Government are in the unhealthy condition charged by advocates of inflation. It is a significant fact that while loud demands are being made from the West for more money, national banks, and notably those in the West, are surrendering circulation because there is no demand for the money, which has been lying idle in their vaults. Last month the amount of national bank circulation surrendered was two and one-half millions in excess of that issued, and the total decrease in national bank circulation since the 1st of July last is over $8,000,000. Treasurer New, who has just returned from the West, says the banks there have more money than they can use with profit, and are preparing to surrender circulation and take up their bonds.

THE ILLINOIS CENTRAL RAILROAD.

THE COMPANY DESIROUS TO AVOID PAYING BACK TAXES ON LAND SALE RECEIPTS COUNTED IN THE GROSS EARNINGS.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—The Treasury Department, at the solicitation of the Illinois Central Railroad, will send expert accountants to examine the books of that company in order to determine their liability for taxes on earnings alleged to have been withheld from 1870 to 1872. The company represent that in making their returns of gross earnings for those years they included the amount received from land sales, the purpose being to make a more favorable showing to the stockholders. This is one of the cases reported by Sanborn. The amount of back taxes claimed to be due the Government is $65,000.

WOOD PAVEMENTS CONDEMNED.

THE DISTRICT BOARD OF HEALTH POINT OUT THE DANGER TO HEALTH OF WOOD PAVEMENTS AND ASK FOR A REMEDY.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—A committee of the Health Board has reported that the wood pavements of this city are in such a broken and decomposed state as to constitute a nuisance injurious to health. Certain streets are reported in such a state of decomposition as to give rise to a mass of dangerous putrefaction. The committee say that four years of exposure to heat and moisture will decompose the best wood pavement, and that the rapid decomposition of those of Washington depend not so much upon wear and tear as upon the quality of the wood and the indifferent manner in which they were laid; that the sprinkling of water to prevent the motion of dust, soon followed by solar heat, has greatly accelerated the decomposition of some streets, and particularly Pennsylvania avenue. The effect of sprinkling is different from rain, for while the former is just enough to moisten the noxious materials without fermenting them, the latter is generally sufficient to carry them from the surface. The broken surface of some of the pavements has allowed the lodgment of immense quantities of animal and vegetable filth (impossible even to calculate) between and under the blocks of wood, not only increasing the putrefying mass, but adding to the rapidity of its decomposition. From this decomposition gases arise, and fungi and infusoria develop, which poison the atmosphere and engender typhoid and malarial fevers, dysentery, diphtheria, &c.

In consequence of a condition so dangerous to the health of the community the Board of Health memorialize the District Commissioners to remove all wood pavements that show signs of decomposition, and have instructed the Health Officer to examine and report upon the condition of wood pavements, with a view to condemn such as may be considered injurious to health.

BOGUS RECOGNIZANCES.

EX-ASSISTANT DISTRICT ATTORNEY FISHER AND OTHERS INDICTED FOR PROCURING "STRAW" BAIL FOR PERRY, THE BURGLAR.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—The Grand Jury to-day returned into the Criminal Court a number of indictments against Charles G. Fisher, late Assistant United States District Attorney; William M. Evans, counsel for Snyder; Benjamin F. Leighton, formerly Assistant Clerk of the Police Court; John Green and Mary Miller, growing out of the release of Edward W. Snyder, the alleged Perry burglar. They are indicted first, for conspiracy in agreeing to procure, to be acknowledged in the Police Court, a recognizance of John Green, in the name of David Edes, for the appearance of said Snyder at the Police Court, thereby aiding his escape. There are single indictments as follows: John Green for false acknowledgment of bail, and accessory after the fact; Charles G. Fisher in procuring false acknowledgments of bail, also as accessory after the fact; William M. Evans in procuring false recognizance, and accessory after the fact; B. F. Leighton in procuring false acknowledgment of bail, and accessory after the fact; Mary Miller, alias Lena Miller, accessory after the fact in procuring a certain John Green to offer himself as bail for said Edward W. Snyder; also for procuring false recognizance. The District Attorney, Gov. Wells, and Judge Wilson were present when the return was made to the court, and at their suggestion Monday was fixed as the time for the arraignment. With a view to guard against further bogus bail Judge Snell, of the Police Court, has promulgated an order providing that no release of a prisoner on bail is to be issued in any case without the clerk has the proper evidence that the bail bond has been approved by the court according to the provisions of the statute relating to the subject.

REPUBLICAN NOMINATION.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 1.—At the Republican Convention for the Eighth Judicial District, held in this city to-day, Hon. George Barker, of Fredonia, was renominated for Justice of the Supreme Court by acclamation. Judge Barker is now serving his first term of eight years, and is held in such general esteem by the bar and the people, that his renomination and re-election were considered a matter of course.

THE JEFFERSON BORDEN MUTINEERS.

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 1.—The jury in the cases of George Miller, John Glew, and Smith, the Jefferson Borden mutineers, who have been on trial for the past week, returned a verdict this morning. Miller and Smith were found guilty of murder and Glew was acquitted.

CALIFORNIA FINANCES.

THE OUTLOOK IN THE GOLDEN STATE.

A COUNTRY WITHOUT A CIRCULATING MEDIUM—WHY THE BANK OF CALIFORNIA SUSPENDED—PROSPECTS OF RESUMPTION AND INCREASED BUSINESS PROSPERITY.

From Our Own Correspondent.

SAN FRANCISCO, Monday, Sept. 20, 1875.

Since my last we have been, as it were, "laying up," awaiting the resumption of the Bank of California. So intimately and generally were the business connections of individuals and enterprises associated with the bank or its ramifying branches and correspondents that it is almost impossible for the community to make a move toward restoration of business until the bank opens its doors. Business is now virtually at a standstill, or very little doing involving ready money. Collecting is impossible, as every man who owes you a bill has his money locked up in the bank. The coin here is not adequate to the requirements of circulation. I see that some of the Eastern papers comment upon our standing the shock so firmly as an evidence of the virtue of our hard money currency. I am sorry to be obliged to differ with those gentlemen. If we had adopted the currency of the National Government in the beginning, and made our gold like our wheat—merchandise—and sold it as we do our other products, at a profit, we would have now been a thickly-settled country. At the close of the war, when so many men were broken up in business and ready to try a new country, if we would have taken their money at its par value they would have flocked here by thousands; but they could not consent to lose one-fourth of their money to get it into available shape. If we had adopted paper currency the same profit would have been made on gold as has been made, and that we are realizing now. Think of the difference in profits to our mines if they had paid in paper instead of gold. The difference would have been a handsome monthly dividend. I am assured that prices would have been precisely the same. There is no reason why the cost of living should be any higher with a paper currency, and we should never have been driven to distraction, as we sometimes have been, for coin. It is shipped away nearly as fast as produced, and what have we to supply its place? And when the mint suspends operations, as it does once a year, and coinage is suspended, we do not have coin enough to fill the ordinary requirements of business. I have seen men rushing around the streets frantically imploring a loan of coin to meet notes due in the bank, with a bar of gold on their shoulders of twice the value, to offer as security. From first to last, our misfortunes can be traced to this stupendous financial blunder, the greatest a State or community ever committed. Beginning with Adams & Co., they failed because when a run upon them came they had not coin enough to meet it. They had assets to the full value of their indebtedness, but could not produce coin. Again, when Page, Bacon & Co. went down, they had a large surplus of assets, but no coin. I remember an impatient depositor who, in answer to the assurance of Judge Chambers that they were sound, asked, "Then why don't you pay?" The Judge replied, "Sir, the coin is not in the country." And it was not. It had all been shipped away, and there was no circulating medium to take its place. If we had adopted currency we should never have been caught napping, for paper would have accumulated here. It could go no further. Suppose the Bank of California had taken its five millions of gold coin and purchased Government securities, as it could have done about the time it organized, for forty cents on the dollar, and issued under the National Banking law, as it could have done, two and a half times its original capital, and had been receiving interest on twelve and a half millions instead of five. Then if subsequently, at the close of the war say, it had concluded to convert itself into a gold bank, and bought back its coin at the reduced rate, how much money would it have made by the operation? I will not go into the calculation, but can state one thing as certain. Had paper money been adopted the Bank of California and the several other banks that closed their doors never would have been obliged to do so. If the assets of the Bank of California had been fifty millions above its liabilities it would have had to close. If the coin was not to be had, and nothing else would suffice, what else could have been done? We are at this moment laboring under the same difficulty. Everything is prosperous, and yet money cannot be had. Allowing for the withdrawal of large and small amounts in consequence of the scare, and the tenacity with which capitalists and small holders are resisting the tempting offer of two and three per cent. per month for money, there is still a large deficiency in the amount required to do the business. Our requirements, owing to the rapid growth of the country, increased prosperity, greater volume of business, &c., are greatly in excess of former years, and, although our mines are producing splendidly, the product cannot keep pace with the demand, especially when you are offering a premium of sixteen per cent. for it. We ship it away as rapidly as it is produced, and get nothing in its place that will circulate.

What has happened to Adams & Co., Page, Bacon & Co., and the Bank of California will continue to happen to our banks every time gold goes up. There can be no failures, perhaps, as they are all sound in assets; but when there is no coin similar consequences must ensue, and suspensions occur at uncertain intervals. Let gold go down to ten, and money would be abundant here. We only require the accumulation of two or three months to make us "flush." It is true the Constitution of the State forbids paper circulation, but what does that amount to? It was a very good thing in its day, but now wants mending to suit the times. There are several clauses which should be stricken out now, especially that converting an imported citizen into a "sovereign" a few days after arrival; in other words, that clause constituting the incubation process of the Democratic Party.

As I have said, we are not paying any bills now. The general excuse is, "Oh, you must wait until the Bank of California resumes." A very conservative course has been pursued and a spirit of mutual forbearance shown that is both sensible and creditable. Collection days have been virtually ignored since the beginning of our troubles, and we are all "going slow" until matters are straightened out. It is really a suspension of the whole community, and the business men are doing just what the bank is—that is, looking into their affairs. There is one good that will result from it. Every man will be able to see just how and where he stands. It will check any extravagant notions, set people to putting their houses in order, make them careful and prudent, and when business is resumed it will be on a safer and sounder basis than ever before. You in the East will be safer in trusting the average Californian than ever before. He won't be likely to run in debt beyond his ability to pay, and will "want to know, you know," before he takes any step involving pecuniary obligation. You may set it down that all California has merely suspended, not "bursted," for the suspension of the Bank of California was like an immense mining blast, shaking all the country around to its centre, bringing down upon the miners the débris and bowlders, bruising and laming a good many, but killing none. Then, again, in the rock it has shaken down there is a good deal of gold to be got out, enough, probably, to repair all damage. The suspension of the Bank of California, followed so soon by the death of its originator, threw such a gloom over this city and entire coast as I never saw here in the course of a residence of twenty-five years. When James King, of William, was shot by the rough, Casey, there was a profound feeling of indignation, which found vent in the formation of the Vigilance Committee. It was "blue" when Page, Bacon & Co. failed. It has been a decided "azure" occasionally when a panic in mining stock knocked our bank accounts to pieces, but I have never witnessed such consternation and grief combined as after Ralston's death. It was a great sorrow—a great loss—that every man felt directly or indirectly. Then, again, there is a feeling that out of personal regard for him and his memory they should sustain the institution he had founded, and to that love for the man and his enterprise of character we are mainly indebted to-day for the present firm condition of things. The work of reorganizing has been going on night and day at the bank, and the poor Directors look fagged out. The work has been immense and is not yet completed, but is daily assuming tangible shape and system. Nobody knows except themselves of the labor it has cost them to get the institution into shape with all the difficulties surrounding them—refractory stockholders and depositors, who wouldn't come into the arrangements, holding out, hoping to be bought out, to be gotten rid of, &c.; but at last all the principal points are satisfactorily arranged, and now all that is required is time to lick them into shape and system—ten or twelve days will probably still be required, possibly a little longer, but the good day will come. The Bank of California will resume, and with a larger paid up cash capital than it originally started with, and simultaneously with the bank the community will resume. Flood & O'Brien's new bank (of Nevada) will commence operations about the same time. The Trust Company will also resume then, and the Consolidated Virginia Mine is sending down nearly $50,000 a day and other mines as much more. Then Messrs. Lazard Freres, for a long time heavy importers of foreign merchandise, will establish a six-million bank. Wheat is looking up, and on the whole I don't see anything bad in the prospect. Give us old fellows a chance and we will show you that there is considerable of the old "Fall of '49 and Spring of '50" in us yet.

COLORED REPUBLICAN RATIFICATION MEETING.

A large and enthusiastic meeting of the colored Republicans of the Fourteenth Ward was held at No. 205 Grand street, on Thursday evening, to ratify the Saratoga nominations. The arrangements were satisfactorily carried out under the direction of William Freeman, President of the Fourteenth Ward Colored Republican Association. Stirring addresses were delivered by Major Willard Bullard, Hon. Jacob Patterson, Col. Duganne, and others, and the following resolutions enthusiastically adopted:

Resolved, That the colored Republicans of the Third Assembly District of the City of New-York hereby ratify and approve the action of the Republican Convention, held at Saratoga on the 8th inst., in nominating for the respective State offices gentlemen whose qualifications therefor, and whose personal character and sterling integrity are so widely known, and with whom, if elected, we may be assured of an efficient and economical administration of the affairs of State.

Resolved, That in the Republican platform we see wisely and fairly met every public issue.

Resolved, That heartily indorsing, as we do, the entire State ticket, we hail with special pride the placing at its head of Hon. Frederick W. Seward, the worthy son of an eminent sire and benefactor of our race.

Resolved, That to the Republican Party alone we owe all that we now enjoy of political freedom, and that to that party and its worthy nominees we hereby pledge our unqualified support.

A HEAVY STORM ANTICIPATED.

Reports from the signal office in this City state that, in anticipation of a heavy storm off the Atlantic coast, orders have been issued for the placing of caution signals along the coast from this port to Cape Hatteras. The Bureau reports that during the past month the rainfall was 2.51 inches, the result of eight days' rain. The highest temperature during the month was 94°, the lowest 42°, and the average 52°. The highest point reached by the barometer was 30.433, on the 12th inst., the lowest being 29.588, on the 16th inst. The aggregate distance traveled by the wind during the month was 6,043 miles, the greatest velocity being reached during the Texas cyclone, when it traveled thirty miles an hour in this City. A local record of observation has been adapted to the regular War Department map used at the New-York station.

AFFAIRS IN CUBA.

THE STRUGGLE OF THE PATRIOTS.

ANTICIPATIONS REGARDING THE WINTER'S CAMPAIGN—THE RECENT HURRICANE—SHARKEY STILL IN HAVANA.

From Our Own Correspondent.

HAVANA, Saturday, Sept. 25, 1875.

An article in the Voz de Cuba of this morning states that as fire was the base of all insurgent operations during the campaign of last Winter, it may be expected again in the coming campaign, or as soon as the dry season commences. "It is the only means," it says, "by which the insurgents can do any harm, draw off numerous forces in the pursuit of their broken-up parties, and thus prolong the struggle. It is therefore necessary at all costs to prevent the destruction of the valuable sugar district of the villas by not only putting them in a state of defense, but by keeping up an active and incessant warfare against the insurgents, and either drive them back beyond the trocha or annihilate them in the villas." But the Voz again confesses the utter inability of the Government to cope with the insurrection, and this fact will explain the repeated appeals of Valmaseda to Spain for more men, and the reluctant promise of a reinforcement of 10,000 troops, which number has been lately increased to 18,000. The contradictory reports received by the cable regarding the number and the exact period when the troops would be forwarded to Cuba considerably exercised the feelings of the royalists, and a cable message on the subject was sent by the Casino Español to Gen. Jovellar, now Minister of War and President of the Spanish Cabinet. The Casino congratulated Jovellar upon his Presidency, "trusting that that event would hasten the embarkation of reinforcements and other resources, which this Antilla is always assured of from the Government"—(se promete siempre del Gobierno.) This latter phrase is rather ambiguous, and is susceptible of various meanings and readings. But the telegram from the virtual power of this island had the desired effect, and brought from Jovellar a reply stating, in substance, that in his constant interest for the Island of Cuba, he was hurrying the forwarding of the reinforcements granted by the Government, and that five battalions were embarking and others would follow to the number of 17,000. This dispatch is considered very satisfactory by the loyal citizens, and we are once again assured that the coming campaign will be the last against the insurrection. The Cubans, however, tell a different story. They declare that their men were never better armed and equipped or in better spirits. That recent successful expeditions have furnished them with arms and war material, and their veteran patriots are confident that this is the last crop of sugar which will ever be made in Cuba Española. Maximo Gomez with a strong force of mounted men has been reported to be lately in the Colon district, and unmolested by the Spanish troops. The fact that he is in the district is undoubted, but no credence can be given the many rumors concerning engagements between the insurgents and the Guardia Civil and Volunteers. The present state of the country, owing to the recent heavy rains, prevents all operations of a military nature.

EFFECTS OF THE RECENT HURRICANE.

Reports from various parts of the island concerning the recent hurricane, as well as particulars concerning its ravages in the Windward Islands, tend to show that the cyclone was rather a severe one, although Cuba was not within its immediate vortex. In the harbor of Manzanillo but few vessels could hold their anchorage; the others were driven ashore and damaged. A number of houses were thrown down. At Santa Cruz the wharves were destroyed and blown away, and all the vessels, except the steam-ship-of-war Venadito, were driven ashore. In Cienfuegos, on the 12th, the storm was felt more severely. Many of the streets were inundated, and many families compelled to leave their houses. Severe weather was also felt in Santiago de Cuba and its district. The American brig Falcon, of Boston, was towed into Santiago de Cuba on the 17th inst. by the French bark Marguerite. The Falcon was bound from Azua, San Domingo, to Boston, and her master, Capt. Colby, reports having experienced a severe hurricane on the night of the 11th inst., when off the coast of Hayti, which completely dismantled his vessel. While drifting along, he noticed large quantities of wreckage, parts of derricks, wharf piers, and lumber, which leads him to believe that the Island of Navasa must have been completely swept off. This island is the property of a Baltimore firm, Messrs. Hooper & Co., who have been engaged in shipping guano from it for the past six years. In Havana heavy rains have fallen almost daily, making rivers in the streets of the city. The coachmen have again increased their tariff of fares, and for a single trip one now pays forty cents Spanish paper, about eighteen cents in silver at present rates.

Don Cayetono Bonafose, the Director of Finance of the island, a post corresponding to that of Secretary of the Treasury, died last Saturday morning of the vomito, and was buried on Sunday with great pomp. All classes of society attended, and his funeral was an imposing one. He leaves a widow and eight children in Spain, in modest circumstances, and his only legacy to them is the unspotted reputation of an honest man. A subscription is to be taken up to relieve his family from want, and Count Valmaseda headed it with $500. Col. Miguel Suarez Vigil, formerly Political Secretary, is now acting as Director de Hacienda.

SHARKEY STILL IN HAVANA.

It was reported about ten days ago that Sharkey, the New-York convicted murderer, had been sent away by the Government on board of the Spanish steamer Alicante, bound to Kingston, Jamaica, and touching at several ports on the north coast of this island on her route. Sharkey's appearance in the streets last Saturday, escorted by several guards and followed by a number of curious people until he disappeared into the Captain General's Palace, gave rise to a story that he had endeavored to escape from the steamer back into this island, but was arrested by the authorities and brought to Havana. Sharkey, up to this present writing, still remains in the common jail of this city. It is true, however, that orders were given for him to leave the island by the steamer bound to Kingston, and, even, policemen were detailed to escort him on board, and his name appeared in the published list of passengers. But it seems that at the last moment, Sharkey made a piteous appeal to Count Valmaseda, and the previous orders were countermanded. On Saturday he was taken to the Palace, before the Political Secretary, who examined him concerning his case. I have since learned that it is the intention of the Government to send him to Spain. He has been an "elephant" on the hands of the authorities here ever since his arrest, and they would be very glad to be rid of him. Since he first became generally known here he has been shunned as a dangerous and desperate man.

A DETERMINED SUICIDE.

On Thursday afternoon a tramp threw himself into the Hudson River at Norwood for the purpose of committing suicide. The plunge was witnessed by a party of laborers, who hastened to the rescue of the man. After a stubborn resistance, the would-be suicide was taken from the water. When landed on the shore he broke from his rescuers and again plunged into the river. Two men in a boat reached the man just as he was about to sink for the third time and seized him. He struggled to free himself from their grasp, kicking and biting them, but was again pulled ashore in an almost dying condition and given into custody. On his person was found a letter addressed to the public, giving some particulars of the misfortunes which caused him to seek relief in death. The letter, which was signed Patrick Lynch, said that the writer was a resident of Cleveland, Ohio, aged thirty-five years. He had been falsely charged with a terrible crime, and had fled from the city named in consequence, walking the entire distance here. Lynch was yesterday arraigned before Justice Murray, at the Harlem Police Court. He exhibited marked signs of mental derangement, and was committed to the care of the Commissioners of Charities and Correction.

PREPARING FOR THE CENTENNIAL.

The principal shoe manufacturers and dealers in boots and shoes of this City have decided to erect a building on the Centennial Grounds at Philadelphia, to be used exclusively for that particular trade. The manufacturers here have joined with the shoe manufacturers of Philadelphia in subscribing for the cost of the building, the sum of each subscription being fixed at $200. Application has already been made for the allotment of a suitable piece of ground, and the committee have expressed their willingness to give them a lot 200 by 300 feet in size. The lot appropriated is situated near the south-east corner of the Machinery Hall, facing the main exhibition building and Belmont avenue. It is understood that the best samples of all kinds of boots and shoes are to be manufactured, so that the American shoe trade may compete with their foreign rivals for supremacy. Arrangements are also being made in this City for a representation of all kinds of goods connected with the construction and outfit of vessels. A meeting will be convened in a few days for the purpose of considering the subject, when all interested in marine matters will be invited to attend.

THE RIFLE.

YESTERDAY AT CREEDMOOR—THE MID-RANGE AND OTHER MATCHES—SCORES OF THE WINNING TEAMS.

The matches in the rifle tournament at Creedmoor were continued yesterday, but not under such pleasant auspices as on the previous days. A fluctuating wind from the north-west disturbed the calculations of the marksmen in the opening contest—the Mid-range match, and during the afternoon a succession of light showers, which terminated in a steady rain, materially hindered the progress of the sport. But for these drawbacks it is probable that the meeting would have been brought to a close last night. The unfinished records of the Gatling and Press matches were completed early in the morning. There were two "ties" to be decided in the former contest, one between the Twenty-second and Seventy-ninth Regiments, who tied upon the score of 317, which was decided upon the number of misses in the aggregate score. The Seventy-ninth Regiment team made five misses, while the Twenty-second had but three, consequently the first place was accorded to the latter. The second tie was between the Seventh and Twelfth Regiments, and was decided in favor of the latter in a precisely similar manner. Following are the total scores of the winning teams and winners of individual prizes:

Twenty-second Regiment	317
Seventy-ninth Regiment	317
Twelfth Regiment	309
Seventh Regiment	309
Capt H. B. Smith, 12th Regiment	33

Corp. E. H. Sandford, 7th Regiment	30
Private E. Purple, 48th Regiment	30
Private J. Munzinger, 71st Regiment	30

There were thirty-five entries in the Press match, but only twenty-seven actually contested. Several of these possessed a doubtful connection with the "press," and protests were entered against Canfield, Robertson, and J. Adam. Following are the winning scores:

L. C. Bruce	34
A. V. Canfield, Jr.	33
D. Cameron	31
W. Robertson	31
T. Lloyd	30
D. F. Acker	30
W. H. Murphy	30
J. B. Whitley	29
J. I. C. Clark	29
W. H. Clark	28

The Mid-range match was commenced shortly after 11 o'clock, and lasted until 2 P. M. There were 137 entries; open to all comers; distance, 500 and 600 yards; seven shots at each range. The winning scores were as follows:

	500 Yards.	500 Yards.	Total.
H. S. Jewell	34	33	67
L. C. Bruce	34	33	67
R. Rathbone	34	32	66

E. H. Sanford	29	29	58
O. Schnecloch	30	28	58
John Bodine	29	27	56

The Champion and Consolation matches were commenced, but the rain fell with such force that it became necessary to postpone the contest until to-day, when, in addition to these, the Long-range match will be contested.

THE COLLEGE OF PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS.

OPENING EXERCISES OF THE WINTER SESSION—ADDRESS OF PRESIDENT CLARKE.

The opening exercises for the regular Winter session of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, medical department of Columbia College, took place last evening at the corner of Twenty-third street and Fourth avenue. Prof. Barnard occupied a seat on the platform, and the hall was well filled with physicians and students. Dr. Clarke, the President, occupied the chair. A brief prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. Weston, and the Chairman delivered an address eulogistic of the professional character of their late President, Dr. Edward Delafield.

Prof. Cornelius R. Agnew delivered the annual address to the students. In his opening remarks he denied the assertion that the profession was overcrowded, and he believed, with Webster, that there was room enough at the top. Heretofore in this country physicians were created out of a crude material, and judged by modern professional standing would be found wanting; but to-day there existed in this country a class of physicians whose skill and beneficent intentions were unsurpassed the world over. There was a growing demand for higher scientific development, but the effort should be for the elevation of science itself, as well as for the public good. He disagreed with Sir William Hamilton that medicine has not improved since the time of Hippocrates, over two thousand three hundred years ago, and he asserted that its progress was proportioned to the passage of time. He counseled graduates to habits of study and thought, attention to teaching, and avoidance of specialties until they were thoroughly grounded in the elementary principles of medicine. He cautioned them not to be persuaded to believe that there was a contest between science and religion. There was no such contest, though there might be a contest between science and religionists. He gave some wholesome advice with reference to the pursuit of medical knowledge, and concluded his lecture amid applause. The proceedings concluded with prayer.

YACHTING NOTES.

The ladies' race of the Seawanhaka Yacht Club to-day will be necessarily much affected by the mishaps of Thursday at the race of the New-York Yacht Club. Several boats that would have taken part in the contest have been so disabled that they cannot put in an appearance. The entries are: First-class schooners Idler, Ariel, Restless, and probably the Meta and Teuton will also sail; first-class sloops Addie, Vision, Vindex; second-class sloops Madcap, Chrystine, Alert.

The Brooklyn Club will also have a short race today of an informal character, which is to be the preliminary to a social evening. There are no formal entries, but such boats as put in an appearance at the time will be allowed to compete. The race, is, however, confined to yachts belonging to the club.

BURGLARS ARRESTED.

About 6 o'clock yesterday morning some citizens passing along Seventh avenue informed Officer Gardener, of the Ninth Precinct Station, that a burglary had just been committed on the jewelry store of Henry Cross, No. 117 Seventh avenue, and pointed out the direction in which the burglars had gone. The officer pursued the robbers, and succeeded in arresting Michael Smith, upon whose person he found several silver watches and watch-cases. Subsequently Officer Connolly arrested James Hayes, in whose possession other silver watches were found. The property was identified by Mr. Cross as a portion of his stock, and the prisoners were held by Justice Bixby in $2,000 to answer.

Buckland, indecent exposure, one year; Thomas McDonough, grand larceny, eighteen months. LAW REPORTS.

CONTEST BETWEEN MOTHER AND DAUGHTERS.

Mrs. Nannie Lawler, through her counsel, Mr. John H. Pannes, obtained a writ of habeas corpus from Judge Donohue requiring her daughters, Sophia V., Emma, and Eva, to show cause why she should not obtain the control of her younger daughters, Mary Isabella and Anna Blanche, aged respectively eleven and nine years, now in the custody of the elder ones. The mother and all the daughters were in Supreme Court, Chambers, yesterday, awaiting the action of Judge Donohue. Mr. George F. Langbein appeared for Sophia, Emma, and Eva. Emma is a school-teacher, and Sophia and Eva keep a book-store on Fourth avenue, left them by their father, Joseph, who died about seven years ago, shortly after having separated from his wife, to whom he left nothing, and who contested the will on the ground that he had been unduly influenced to make it by the legatees. The Surrogate admitted the will to probate, and appointed the widow guardian of the younger children. They remained, however, in the custody of their sisters, and all the children are inimical to their mother, who seems to cordially reciprocate this ill feeling. Before the case was presented to the court yesterday an effort was made to effect a reconciliation and unite the family, but it proved unsuccessful. It was claimed on behalf of the mother that she is the natural guardian of the children whose custody she seeks, and it was alleged that their minds had been poisoned against her by their sisters. On the other hand, it was contended that the children are now well cared for, are happy and contented, and that the mother has so unfortunate a disposition and temperament that it is better for the children's welfare that she should not have their control; and, further, that the father, who was the legal as well as the natural guardian of the children, had desired that they should be cared for by their elder sisters. Judge Donohue reserved his decision, saying that he would give the case careful examination.

THE WILKES LIBEL CASE.

The examination of Mr. George Wilkes, in the suit for libel brought by Mr. James F. Latham, was resumed yesterday before Justice Bixby. Mr. Horace M. Jordan was recalled and testified to the authenticity of a letter from ex-Collector of Internal Revenue William R. Whittaker, and a certificate from his successor in office, ex-Senator Charles Smith. Both papers were commendatory of Mr. Latham's character. Mr. Edward G. Gilmore, one of the proprietors of Gilmore's Garden, testified that Sheridan Shook and ex-Judge Dittenhoefer were his partners in the business of conducting the garden. He supposed that Mr. Palmer was also interested in the enterprise through Mr. Shook. Mr. Latham was in the employ of the Gilmore's Garden management, and had been engaged by witness. He was employed to look after the advertising and newspaper notices. Mr. Latham was not in the employ of the Union Square Theatre, and had not been for three months. Witness did not know this of his own knowledge, but had heard it from Mr. Shook. Several articles that had appeared in the Spirit of the Times, and were not embodied in the complaint, were then offered in evidence as bearing on the question of malice. They were objected to, and the question reserved for a ruling. The examination was then adjourned to Monday at 10:30 A. M.

THE MURDERED PEDDLER.

Charles Weston, William Thompson, and William Ellis, the three negroes indicted for the brutal murder of Abram Weinburg, the Rivington street peddler, on the 17th of September, in the Westchester woods, were placed at the bar of the Court of General Sessions yesterday for trial, pursuant to the peremptory order of Recorder Hackett. Messrs. Mott and Kintzing, who had been assigned by the court to defend the prisoners, interposed a plea of not guilty, and moved for a postponement of the trial. While willing to try the case before his Honor, counsel thought it was rather late in the last day of the term to take up a murder trial, with the difficulty of obtaining from the panel a jury who had not already made up their minds as to the guilt of the accused. The prisoners had, counsel admitted, confessed their crime; still it was only proper that whatever mitigating circumstances there were in the case should be properly presented to a jury. The accused were too poor to employ counsel, and their case had not received that attention which it deserved. Under all the circumstances, and in order to prevent its being said that indecent haste had been used in bringing the prisoners to trial, counsel thought the case should go over for the present. Assistant District Attorney Rollins did not wish to be unduly zealous in pressing the trial of the prisoners, and would not oppose the motion for a postponement if counsel for the defense thought anything could be done by the prisoners that had not been done. Recorder Hackett said that if the prisoners had occupied a prominent position in society he should be reluctant to postpone the case; but, being poor and friendless, he thought every opportunity should be allowed them for their defense. He did not wish to see undue haste used in prosecuting the prisoners, and would therefore grant the postponement asked for by counsel.

THE CASE OF LEVI AHRENS.

The case of Levi Ahrens, indicted for receiving stolen goods, whose death was reported in order to escape trial, and whose subsequent discovery and final arrest by District Attorney Phelps caused considerable sensation at the time and attracted the attention of the Investigating Committee on Crime, was again before the Court of General Sessions yesterday. Mr. Mott, counsel for Ahrens, moved that the prisoner be discharged from custody, the prosecution having failed to bring him to trial. Assistant District Attorney Rollins said that the facts of the case were known to Mr. Russell, who would be in court in a few days. He thought he could promise that the case would be taken up and finally disposed of within two weeks, and on this assurance counsel did not press the matter.

AN EX-CLERGYMAN SENT TO STATE PRISON.

Thomas J. Weeks, aged fifty-one, who resides in Jersey City, and keeps a lightning-rod store in this City, was tried before Recorder Hackett yesterday, in the Court of General Sessions, on a charge of receiving stolen goods. The prosecution showed that Henry Lindberg, a porter in the employ of Joseph D. West, No. 40 Cortlandt street, on the 10th of September stole from his employer 750 feet of lightning-rod, worth $50, and sold it to Weeks for $33 75, the latter being fully cognizant of the fact that Lindberg was in the employ of West, and that the property purchased by him was stolen. The prisoner, who stated that he had in early life been ordained a minister of the Baptist Church, claimed that his dealings with Mr. West were entirely legitimate, and produced a number of witnesses to prove good character. Weeks was found guilty of the offense charged, and sentenced by Recorder Hackett to three years in State Prison.

COURT NOTES.

On and after Monday, the 4th inst., until further notice, the Chambers of the Court of Common Pleas will open at 10 o'clock A. M.

The hearing in the John L. Brown will case was resumed in the Surrogate's Court yesterday morning. There was nothing of special interest in the evidence given.

A. Moller, charged with attempting to bribe James R. Van Vechten, an Appraiser in the Custom-house Department, was admitted to bail yesterday in the sum of $10,000. His bondsmen were Theodore C. Pohle and Thomas S. Olline.

Samuel Zappner, of No. 90 Essex street, accused his former room-mate, Herman Lewis, before Justice Morgan, at Essex Market yesterday, of stealing $44 worth of clothing from him on April 15. Lewis was held in default of $1,000 bail.

John Allen, thirteen years of age, of No. 218 Wooster street, pleaded guilty yesterday to a charge of burglary. He entered the premises No. 19 Watt street, and stole a life preserver valued at $3. He was held to answer, in default of $1,000 bail, by Justice Morgan.

Alonzo Bliss, the Custom-house Inspector, indicted for assaulting Mr. Frederick A. Schwab, dramatic editor of THE TIMES, in Booth's Theatre during the Barry Sullivan engagement, appeared at the District Attorney's office yesterday morning in company with his lawyer, Mr. Benjamin F. Russell, to give bail on the indictment. Bliss informed the District Attorney that he intended to sail for Europe this morning in company with an invalid Deputy Collector, and was anxious to give new bail to appear for trial at the next term of the Court of General Sessions, so as to guard against any interference with his departure. Bail in the sum of $300 was then taken before Recorder Hackett, James R. Davis, of No. 130 East Fifty-eighth street, becoming surety, and after pleading not guilty to the indictment, the accused was allowed to depart. Efforts on the part of the defendant's friends to compromise the matter having failed, the case will probably be called for trial before Recorder Hackett at the November term of the court.

CRIMINALS SENTENCED.

SPEEDY DISPATCH OF CRIMINAL BUSINESS.

During the September term of the Court of General Sessions, which closed yesterday, an unprecedented amount of criminal business was disposed of by Recorder Hackett and Assistant District Attorney Rollins. During the month 218 convictions were obtained, as follows: 134 prisoners sent to State Prison, 66 to the Penitentiary, 6 to the Catholic Protectory, 4 to the House of Refuge, 2 fined, and sentence suspended on 6. The number of acquittals was 45, complaints received, 501; indictments found by the Grand Jury, 351; complaints dismissed by the same body, 47. This is the largest amount of work ever performed in a single term of any criminal court.

BURGLARS AND SNEAK THIEVES AT WORK.

The following robberies were reported yesterday to Superintendent Walling: Between 6 P. M. on Wednesday and 7 A. M. on Thursday the dry-goods warehouse of Macy, Valentine & Co., at No. 356 Broadway, was entered by burglars. They removed the padlock from the front door, and, unlocking the door, entered the building, locking the door behind them. They selected sixty-one pieces of black silk, valued at $8,000, which they packed in four bags, ready for removal. The burglars, however, left the premises without taking the goods, having evidently been frightened off in some unknown manner, and it was not until the porter arrived at the store on Thursday that the visit of the burglars was discovered. A search through the stock in the store revealed that nothing had been stolen.

The residence of Mr. Warren Carl, No. 161 East Sixty-fourth street, was entered by sneak thieves during the absence of the family on Thursday, and was robbed of jewelry and silverware valued at $500.

The dwelling of M. S. Steiglotz, No. 80 East Eighty-first street, was entered by burglars on Thursday night by forcing open a rear basement window, and $100 worth of wearing apparel was carried off.

An unknown thief entered the packing-box factory of J. Youngs, Nos. 40 and 42 Spring street, and made off with a silver watch valued at $40 belonging to S. W. Devoe, who was employed in the factory.

The tailor shop of Thomas Bitteman, at No. 505 East Thirteenth street, was entered by burglars on Thursday night, and robbed of seven pieces of cloth valued at $200.

Sneak thieves entered the apartments of Frederick Krautz, in the tenement-house No. 193 East Tenth street, and carried off $25 worth of wearing apparel.

The lager beer saloon of Philip Wetzel, No. 71 South Washington square, was entered by burglars on Thursday night, and robbed of $64 worth of property.

The liquor store of John Lynch, No. 224 West street, was entered on Thursday night through a side window and robbed of a quantity of liquor and cigars.

The apartments of Jacob Harris, at No. 161 Division street, were entered by means of false keys, and $88 worth of wearing apparel was carried off.

The liquor store of Thomas A. Maguire at No. 540 East Fourteenth street, was robbed of $28 worth of property by some youthful thieves.

SUITS AGAINST A RAILWAY COMPANY.

The Fourth National Bank, of this City, held three notes against the Indianapolis, Bloomington and Western Railway Company, aggregating $40,000, the Central National Bank, of Philadelphia, one note of $6,300, and the Hanover National Bank, of this City, one for $5,000. None of the notes were paid, and they were all indorsed by Benjamin E. Smith, of Ohio. Suits were brought in the Supreme Court by the holders of the notes against the railway company and Smith, as indorser. Yesterday, on motion of counsel for Smith, Judge Donohue granted an order removing the suits to the United States Circuit Court.

FRIDAY Oct. 1—P. M.

The railway and miscellaneous speculation on the Stock Exchange was firm in the early dealings, but subsequently the general share list weakened, in sympathy with a decline of 5 ₩ cent. in Union Pacific and 3 ₩ cent. in Missouri Pacific. Various reports were in circulation as to the cause of the sudden break in Union Pacific, such as the calling in of loans, the expiration of privileges, and the departure for the West of the leading operator in the stock. The sharp decline brought in buyers for the stock, and under their purchases there was a recovery of nearly 3 ₩ cent., followed by a partial reaction at the close. The wide fluctuations in the stock induced more trading in it than for a long time past. There were no fresh rumors about Missouri Pacific beyond one that some stock heretofore hypothecated had been sold out. The pressure of sales in this stock ceased during the morning, after which a rally of 2 ₩ cent. took place. The general list was not seriously affected by the decline in Union Pacific and Missouri Pacific, the fluctuations being confined within a range of ¼ to 1 ₱ cent. During the afternoon the market exhibited considerable strength, and at the close some shares were up to and even higher than the closing quotations of last evening. The decline in Union Pacific has shaken out a number of weak holders, whose stocks have passed into stronger hands. The Western shares generally showed much firmness throughout the day, and yielded but slightly at intervals, closing strong. This was particularly true of North-western, Rock Island, St. Paul, and Michigan Central. Lake Shore, on a business of 36,000 shares, fluctuated 1 ₱ cent., and closed midway between the extremes of the day. Pacific Mail was one of the most active stocks, but with comparatively narrow fluctuations, closing within a fraction of the highest point. Western Union ranged between 76 and 76¾, closing at the higher quotation. Central Pacific was 92⅝ bid, ex dividend of 4 ₱ cent. gold, the same price that was bid yesterday dividend on.

Money was in abundant supply throughout the day. The early business was at 2@3 ₱ cent. for call loan negotiations, but toward the close the offerings increased, and some transactions were made as low as 1½ ₱ cent. In discounts there is no change to report, and prime names meet with ready sale at 5½ to 7 ₱ cent. The amount of national bank notes received for redemption at Washington to-day was $500,000. The amount of national bank circulation outstanding is $347,860,000, which is $2,000,000 less than on June 20, 1874, and $4,000,000 less than on Jan. 14, 1875.

The foreign advices reported the withdrawal of £66,000 bullion from the Bank of England, on balance, to-day. The London market for securities was firmer for Consols, which advanced to 93¾@93⅞. United States bonds also exhibited more steadiness for a time, but closed at a slight reaction, as follows: Old 1865s at 106¼, 1867s at 107⅜@107½, 10-40s at 104⅜@104½, and new 5s at 104½@104⅝. Erie ranged from 15⅛ to 14⅞, closing at the intermediate figure. At Frankfort the new 5 per cents were quoted at 99¼. The sterling exchange market felt the influence of lower gold, the bankers advancing their rates early in the day from $4 79 to $4 80 for 60 days' bills, and from $4 83 to $4 84 for demand, while sales were made at $4 79@$4 79½ and $4 83@$4 83½. The business for to-morrow's packet, which was, however, comparatively small, was on this basis. Gold was quiet and weaker in tone, declining from 117 to 116¾. This was followed by a recovery and a reaction, with final transactions at 116⅞. The decline was based on the recovery in Consols at London and the possibility of increased sales of gold by the Government during the present month, although the inferences drawn in regard to the latter are mere surmises. Cash gold was scarce and loaned at 1-32 to 1-16 ₱ cent. per diem for use. The public debt statement shows a decrease for the month of September of $3,342,560.

Government bonds yielded a fraction for some issues, in sympathy with gold; 1867s, coupon, touched 120½, and New 5s 118⅛. Secretary Bristow to-day issued a call for $5,000,000 5-20 bonds for redemption, interest to cease Jan. 1, of which half was coupon and the remainder registered bonds. There remains outstanding $19,755,000 called bonds on which interest has ceased. The demand for railroad mortgages is unabated and a further advance in some instances was noted to-day. The Pacific issues were firm and Union Land Grants, which were quoted ex interest, rose from 99 to 100⅛. Union Firsts sold at 104¼@104½. Sinking Funds at 91⅛@91½, Centrals at 107¼, San Joaquin Branch at 90½@90⅝, ex interest, and California and Oregon Branch at 92. Harlem coupon Firsts rose to 114. New-Jersey Central consolidated Firsts sold at 107¼, and Louisville and Nashville consolidated of 1898 at 82½@82 ex interest. Chicago and North-western consolidated coupon gold bonds advanced to 87½ and closed at 87. State bonds were steady on small dealings.

The imports of dry goods at the port of New-York for the week ending this date are $2,033,861, and the amount marketed $2,259,605. The total imports of dry goods at the port since Jan. 1, this year, are $85,339,014, and the total amount marketed $85,295,724.

THE TIMES BY THE FAST MAIL TRAINS.

The Fast Mail trains to the West now enable subscribers to obtain THE TIMES within a radius of 500 miles from New-York City on the day of its publication, and as far West as Chicago within twenty-four hours. By this arrangement THE SUNDAY TIMES has largely increased the area of its circulation, and can be purchased before noon in towns as remote from New-York as Syracuse and Harrisburg. The demand for this journal is already very large, and in order to insure attention notice should be given at once of any increase in the orders from newsdealers.

Our Washington dispatches give some instructive figures as to the continued surrender of currency by the national banks, in spite of the persistent cry of the inflationists that the paper money in circulation is inadequate for "the wants of trade." During the first quarter of the current financial year, that is, since July 1, there has been over eight millions of national bank circulation surrendered, in excess of the amount issued. Western banks have been among the most forward to take up their bonds and surrender the notes lying unemployed in their vaults, and Treasurer NEW, who has lately returned from the West, reports that this movement is likely to go on with greater, rather than less, rapidity.

It should be remembered that under the amendment to section 1 of Article II. of the State Constitution a citizen, to be entitled to vote, must have been "an inhabitant of the State for one year preceding the election, and for the last four months a resident of the county, and for the last thirty days a resident of the election district in which he may offer his vote." Formerly, a citizen was entitled to vote for the general ticket even though his lack of thirty days' residence in an Assembly or other district disqualified him from voting for the officers to be elected from that district. But now all three residential requirements must be complied with before the citizen is entitled to be registered or to vote at all.

The nomination of Mr. SHERMAN S. ROGERS, of Buffalo, by the Republicans of the Thirty-first Senate District is one of the very best which could have been made. Mr. ROGERS is a lawyer of the highest standing and a citizen of irreproachable character and antecedents. The Republicans of Erie are confident of their ability to elect the Senator from their district this year, and in selecting such a candidate they have made the best possible preparation for proving that their confidence is not misplaced. We have no doubt that our friends in Erie are thoroughly awake to the necessity for supplementing their action by hard and continuous work. The Republican majority in the county on last year's vote by Assembly districts was very small—the figures being 15,434 Republican to 15,243 Democratic votes. The full Republican strength must, and we have no doubt will, be brought out this Fall.

The relations between Great Britain and China have come to the verge of open rupture. The British Ambassador intimated his intention to leave Pekin yesterday unless his demands for satisfaction in regard to the murder of Mr. MARGARY and the fulfillment of treaty stipulations were complied with. The firm attitude of Great Britain during the entire controversy has been viewed with considerable satisfaction by all the powers having intimate relations with China. In a recent letter from China to the Cologne Gazette the attack on the English Consulate at Tchin-Kiang and the outrage on the surgeon of the British Embassy at Pekin are alluded to as evidence that the anti-foreign party in China is gaining the upper hand. This correspondent points out the failure of China to fulfill the treaty obligation which requires the Empire to accredit Ambassadors and Consuls to those powers who maintain representatives at Pekin and in the seaports. The firm attitude of England in the East is generally regarded as part of a policy which all the treaty powers will sustain, having for its object the strict holding of China to her pledges.

With good weather, the prospects of sport at Jerome Park to-day are excellent. A more open contest than the three-year-old race for the Jerome Stakes has not been seen here for years. The "knowing ones" of the turf are thoroughly abroad in their calculations as to the probable winners. Some pin their faith on the McGrath stable, which will probably be represented by Aristides and Chesapeake; others believe in the chances of Viator, of Ozark, or of Milner, but the betting fraternity show their bewilderment over the race by refusing to back their convictions by anything but comparatively small sums. Speculation as to the result of the Manhattan Handicap is almost equally at sea. Piccolo is thought by many to be a formidable competitor, in view of one rather startling performance at Saratoga in his three-year-old form; Calvin, if in condition at all, ought to have an excellent chance for the race; while Willie Burke and Madge have done so much game running, that their prospects are not to be despised. Altogether, the people who travel to Jerome Park to-day for excitement, are not likely to be disappointed.

THE CONTROL OF THE NEXT SENATE.

All the advices from the interior of the State point to the conclusion that there is an excellent prospect of retaining a Republican majority in the next Senate. We have already endeavored to indicate the quarters in which our friends must make extra exertions to secure this result. A general summary of the political complexion of the thirty-two Senate districts of the State may serve to make the demands of the situation still more clear. First, as to the districts of which the Republicans hold undisputed control. These are the following:

Fifteenth District—(Fulton, Montgomery, Saratoga, and Schenectady)—Senator WAGNER.

Sixteenth District—(Clinton, Essex, and Warren)—Senator TOBEY.

Seventeenth District—(Franklin and St. Lawrence)—Senator DICKINSON.

Twenty-first District—(Madison and Oswego)—Senator KELLOGG.

Twenty-second District—(Cortland and Onondaga)—Senator WOOD.

Twenty-fourth District—(Broome, Tioga, and Tompkins)—Senator SELKREG.

Twenty-fifth District—(Cayuga and Wayne)—Senator WOODIN.

Twenty-ninth District—(Genesee, Niagara, and Orleans)—Senator COLE.

Thirtieth District—(Allegany, Livingston, and Wyoming)—Senator WELLMAN.

Thirty-second District—(Cattaraugus and Chautauqua)—Senator DOW.

These, it will be observed, include but ten out of the eighteen districts held by the Republicans in the last Senate. The following eight, now represented by Republican Senators, we rank as doubtful, because they were practically lost on the vote by Assembly Districts last Fall:

First District—(Queens, Richmond, and Suffolk)—Senator KING.

Fifth District—(New-York)—Senator BOOTH.

Ninth District—(Putnam, Rockland, and Westchester)—Senator ROBERTSON.

Tenth District—(Orange and Sullivan)—Senator MADDEN.

Fourteenth District—(Greene and Ulster)—Senator CONNELLY.

Nineteenth District—(Oneida)—Senator LOWERY.

Twentieth District—(Herkimer and Otsego)—Senator McGOWAN.

Twenty-third District—(Chenango, Delaware, and Schoharie)—Senator THOMPSON.

Of these, the Nineteenth District may be confidently reckoned on as Republican, while the Ninth can almost certainly be carried should Senator ROBERTSON accept a renomination. The other six can be carried by hard work and good nominations—a double requirement which our friends in the Tenth would do well to heed. With the probability of two Democratic candidates in the Fifth District, Mr. BOOTH's re-election may be regarded as secure. The First District only polled a Democratic majority of 800 votes on the Assembly vote of last year, and we must regard its continued possession as quite within the ability of the Republican constituency. Parties are so evenly balanced in the Twentieth District that it only needs a very active Republican canvass to retain the district for the party. In the Tenth, Fourteenth, and Twenty-third, the opposition is more formidable, but certainly not strong enough to shut out all hopes of reversing the Democratic majorities by which the members of Assembly were elected last year.

While the Republican control over ten districts has never been questioned, there are only four districts in the State of which the Democrats hold undisputed possession. These are the following:

Third District—(Kings)—Senator JACOBS.

Fourth District—(New-York)—Senator FOX.

Sixth District—(New-York)—Senator GROSS.

Seventh District—(New-York)—Senator LEDWITH.

In the three latter there will probably be a very bitter contest this Fall between Tammany and anti-Tammany factions, and in two of them it is quite possible that a Republican candidate may step in between the two Democratic contestants. The other districts held by the Democrats we regard as still more likely to yield to united and resolute attack. They are the following:

Eighth District—(New-York)—Senator MOORE.

Eleventh District—(Columbia and Dutchess)—Senator RAY.

Twelfth District—(Rensselaer and Washington)—Senator PARMENTER.

Thirteenth District—(Albany)—Senator DAYTON.

Twenty-sixth District—(Ontario, Seneca, and Yates)—Senator JOHNSON.

Twenty-seventh District—(Chemung, Schuyler, and Steuben)—Senator BRADLEY.

Twenty-eighth District—(Monroe)—Senator LORD.

Thirty-first District—(Erie)—Senator LANING.

Of these the Eighth, the Eleventh, the Thirteenth, the Twenty-seventh, and the Twenty-eighth naturally belong to the Democrats. But Senator MOORE carried the Eighth in 1873 by a majority of only 254, and the great probability of a split Democratic vote this year ought to give the district to the Republicans. The task of carrying the Eleventh may be more formidable, but is far from impossible, and the Democratic dissensions in Albany County afford the Republicans an excellent chance of carrying the Thirteenth District. In the Twenty-seventh District there is a pretty large section of Democratic malcontents who will probably desire to make the Governor feel the effects of their resentment, and whose apathy or opposition to the regular party nominations ought to materially help the Republican vote. The demoralized condition of the Democratic Party in Monroe County since the fall of the house of LORD will render that district incapable of resisting an energetic Republican attack. We must, in spite of recent Democratic gains, still regard the Twelfth District as essentially Republican. Senator PARMENTER's majority was a very small one in 1873, and the increase in the Democratic majority on the Assembly vote of last year was but a few hundreds. The Republicans have only to bring out the 16,000 votes which they undoubtedly possess in the district, to elect their candidate for Senator. The Twenty-sixth District must also be claimed as Republican. A Democratic majority of 174 on the Senate vote of 1873, and of 800 on the Assembly vote of last year, ought not to be difficult to overcome. The Thirty-first District must be decidedly claimed as Republican. Our friends in Erie have pledged themselves to recover the district, and we have perfect confidence in their ability to redeem the pledge.

Two districts—the Second and Eighteenth—at present represented by Independents, have been omitted from the enumeration. Both belong, by right, to the Republicans, and the Eighteenth—Senator MIDDLETON—will be carried this year by the regular Republican candidate. In regard to Senator COE's District, it is impossible to speak with the same degree of confidence. It is obvious, however, that districts in which the Democrats dare not run candidates of their own party, cannot be claimed as being under their control.

PHILADELPHIA AND NEW-YORK.

No one of our readers who has even a superficial knowledge of the condition of the industrial classes in the two cities—Philadelphia and New-York—can fail to see how far interior our City is in this important respect to the former. Though the Pennsylvania city is not far behind our own in population, containing now more than seven hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants, and is especially a manufacturing town, and, therefore, exposed to all the evils of this branch of industry, yet none of the terrible problems of pauperism press upon that community which beset our own. The working classes are comparatively prosperous and contented; beggary and vagrancy are trifling evils compared to these curses in New-York; there is no ill-feeling existing in one class against the other, and no possibility of riot or disturbance from want of bread and employment. In fact, all testimony shows that the working classes of Philadelphia are better off and accumulating property more rapidly than in any other American city, unless, possibly, San Francisco. What is the explanation of this remarkable success of our neighboring city? The superiority to New-York can be accounted for partially on many grounds: The fact that the poorest emigration has not poured its streams into Philadelphia, as here, and that the stock of the population is of a quiet, industrious race, and the site of the city permitted individual dwellings to the poorer classes. But with all these favoring advantages, we believe the great cause has been in a remarkable economical experiment, tried successfully in Philadelphia and never attempted thoroughly in New-York. We refer to those "building associations" of which we have spoken frequently during the past few years.

The evil and curse of New-York, both in sanitary and moral respects, is overcrowding. This degrades our working classes, and reduces them continually to a lower economical position. Unfortunately, this evil grows worse with us, while, in Philadelphia, the condition improves. In 1870, New-York contained a population of nearly one million, distributed in 64,044 dwellings, or with nearly fifteen persons to each dwelling. But in nine of the twenty-two wards of New-York, 365,000 persons were housed in only 17,110 dwellings, or an average of 21⅓ to each dwelling. In Philadelphia, on the other hand, the average for the whole city is only six persons to each house, and in the worst wards, a little over eight. Since 1870, about twenty-four thousand dwellings have been built in that city, making the whole number of dwellings there nearly one hundred and thirty-five thousand, which, at an average of six to each house, will give a population this year of 810,000, which is more than the estimated population, so that the inference is probable that less than six persons occupy each house in Philadelphia.

If we compare the three cities of New-York, Brooklyn, and Jersey City with this, we shall find that about 1,700,000 persons live there now in less than 120,000 houses, or in fewer dwellings than the single city of Philadelphia, with its 750,000 population, occupies. This marked and important difference is due, in the main, to one cause—the existence of building associations formed by the working men themselves in the Pennsylvania city. These societies date from the year 1831, and number, in Philadelphia, more than 500, and in all Pennsylvania, some 1,000. It is stated on good authority that more than 70,000 dwellings are now owned by mechanics and men of small means in that city, who have become fee-holders through the aid of these associations. The amount of money loaned by them on this kind of property is estimated at from $40,000,000 to $60,000,000. In the first decade, some 5,000 persons became stockholders, and thus purchased and paid for houses; during the second, the number reached probably 10,000; in the third 20,000, and at present, there are some 50,000 members of these associations who either own or are paying for their own and others' houses through the help of these companies. Their monthly payments in the societies are estimated to average $1,000,000. We have previously explained, in detail, the operations of these associations. The result with an industrious mechanic is usually this: Having paid as tenant $15 per month or $180 per year for a house worth $1,500, in ten years his payments amount to $1,800. But in a Building Association within eight years, the same annual payments will very nearly make him a fee-holder. Thousands of poor men in these associations have, in eight or ten years, become owners of their houses at scarcely more annual cost than they would have paid as tenants.

Of course, there is no jugglery or mystery about this. The laws of money rule in building associations as well as everywhere else. The simple explanation is that the working man is forced to save by this scheme, and the association, from long experience, knows how to employ money more profitably and at the same time more securely, than the individual himself. If watchful and industrious, the man gains also by the neglect and idleness of his fellow-members, who are obliged to pay fines or to forfeit their stock. He pays very high interest, but he gets it back in his house. The principles which have caused the wonderful success of these "Land Banks" or "Building Companies," are economy among the members and borrowers, and the oversight and management of their own earnings by the workingmen themselves, under sound methods of investment and security. The probability is that Philadelphian working men inherit the traditions and habits now of two generations of these successful co-operative societies. They are trained to the business. We doubt much if our New-York mechanics and laborers could at once carry on building associations so successfully. Still, it is remarkable that no leader of the working classes has yet attempted to try the scheme in this City.

MUSICAL BURGLARS.

It would doubtless be a great relief to the Police if residents in the City would bring themselves to the belief that burglary is an established institution among us; to be tolerated, therefore, and not suppressed. It would save the thieves some anxiety, and it would lessen a little of that unpleasant sensation which it is fair to suppose that even the Police Commissioners sometimes feel at being constantly reminded by the public that their department is inefficient, if not something worse. It would very much extend the area of good feeling too. The gentlemen who make it their business to break into our houses would not be required, in order to protect themselves, to murder their victims. So far, life would be rendered more secure. Every one could go to rest with the peaceful conviction that, although money and valuables might disappear during the night, there need be no throats cut nor any personal injury inflicted. Burglary would become a recognized occupation, and its professors would be esteemed in social circles for their skill in the art. It would be deemed as essential that houses should not be broken into in a bungling way, as it is now the approved notion that surgeons should not take off legs or perform other operations in an inartistic manner.

But if anything near to this point in the progress of civilization can be attained, a hint has reached us from the city of Lyons, in France, which may be useful. There burglars are not recognized in high social circles any more than they are here, but they evince a high consideration for the people upon whom they prey. One of the qualifications for a first-class housebreaker in that city is the possession of a cultivated voice, with, of course, some knowledge of operatic music and popular melodies. Since this came to be insisted upon, the sensation of having the house pillaged has been rendered less unpleasant. Of course an individual burglar is of no use at all under such an arrangement. The owner of the family plate would derive no consolation from the thought that the thief stole it while singing the last new song. But it is very different when the thieves associate in bands, and openly parade the streets serenading the inhabitants, and engaging their attention while two or three of their number are operating at the basement of the nearest house. People who appreciate the rich music of cultivated voices cannot fail to enjoy a treat of that kind, and if they do lose any valuables that may have been within reach of the strangers, they at least have the consolation of knowing that they got something in exchange. If there be any regret occasioned by the loss, it is tempered with the recollection of some very pleasurable moments.

If this style of proceeding be something novel, as it seems to us it must be, the credit of introducing it must, it is said, be given to some traveling Italians. These gentlemen have been enchanting the people of Lyons with their extraordinary voices, and at the same time breaking into their houses with such consummate skill that all the efforts of the Police to bring them within reach of the law have been baffled; and the French Police are rarely guilty of negative faults. They are much more likely to arrest half a dozen innocent men than to let a guilty one escape, if they can possibly help it. In the interest of all parties, therefore, the suggestion is a useful one. If all the burglars in New-York would learn to sing, they might contribute very much to the pleasures of the public, and possibly do a great deal toward cultivating the national taste for classical music. At present they are a very useless set of people. They do their stealing in a heartless manner, regardless of the duty of making some little return for the privilege accorded to them by the Police of subsisting upon plunder. Besides, if burglaries are not to be prevented, it would be much more agreeable to have our houses broken into and robbed to the strains of inspiriting music than it is under the prevalent old-fashioned system. If, therefore, the Police will not protect property, they may, perhaps, take the lead in this matter, and so arrange with the thieves that robberies may henceforth be conducted with a little more music than has hitherto been customary.

FAST TRAINS.

The fast postal trains which have recently been placed on two of the great trunk lines connecting this City with Chicago have thus far met with no accident. The success of the experiment has led people to ask why the New-York Central and the Pennsylvania Railroads did not try it long ago. The answer is that until within a very recent period, American railways did not furnish the conditions necessary for great speed. A locomotive capable of drawing a train at the rate of sixty miles an hour must be large and heavy, and the cars that can withstand the strain of such rapid motion must also have the weight inseparable from great solidity of construction. Heavy locomotives and cars necessitate heavy rails, strong bridges, and a solid road-bed. These conditions did not exist here ten years ago. The invention of steel rails, iron truss bridges, and fish-bolts necessarily preceded the introduction of heavy cars and powerful locomotives, and it is in consequence of the adoption of these inventions that the Fast Postal trains have become possible.

That sixty miles an hour is the final limit of the speed of fast trains there is no reason to believe. Railway speed need recognize no limit except the power of locomotives, and the latter can be increased very nearly in proportion as the strength of the rails and the road-bed is increased. Of course, as speed increases, friction is increased, and there is a point where friction would impose an impassable barrier to too rapid speed. That point, however, is a long way beyond the fastest speed which has yet been attained. The contest between the weight of locomotives and the strength of rails is analogous to that between the armor of iron-clads and the calibre of guns. No matter how thick may be the armor placed about an iron-clad frigate, it is possible to make a gun which will carry a ball heavy enough to pierce it. In like manner, rails can be made which will be strong enough to stand the strain of the heaviest locomotive which our machinists can build. It would be rash to predict the limit to the size of artillery, and it would be equally rash to fix the limit of possible railway speed.

It is quite clear, however, that when our express trains travel at the rate of a hundred miles an hour, they cannot afford to stop for passengers except at stations very long distances apart. Already the postal trains pick up and throw out mail-bags at smaller stations without any pause in their rapid flight, and locomotives supply themselves with water by scooping it from a trough while the trains to which they are attached are in motion. There would probably be no impossibility in picking up passengers in the same way as mail-bags are now caught. Two bags filled with passengers—one bag, of course, being exclusively for ladies—might be hung at either end of a station platform, and caught by a projecting hook as the train shot by. This method, however, would have its obvious inconveniences, and no well-dressed lady would be willing to be shaken up in a bag with traveling apple-women, and shaken out again into a distributing bin by irreverent passenger-sorters. And then, even if passengers were picked up in this way, they could not be comfortably tossed off at way stations in the same bags in which they were originally put on board. A mail-bag thus unceremoniously tossed out has a curious way of leaping up as soon as it strikes the ground, and of chasing the train in a series of leaps and bounds of great vivacity. The spectacle of a bag full of elderly gentlemen or stout ladies executing similar evolutions would be extremely amusing to the friends who might be waiting for them at the station, but it is doubtful if the occupants of the bag would be altogether satisfied. The mail-bag plan would clearly never become popular; but it will not do to assume that the problem of taking on board passengers while a train is in motion is an impossible one. It may yet be solved in a safe and pleasant way, and passengers may step on board the fastest trains with the same ease with which Mr. PETER COOPER insists that they could step on board the theoretical "Traveling Sidewalk" railway.

But we have not yet reached the time when trains can run at one hundred miles an hour, and it might perhaps, be as well to get our trains before deciding how to run them without stopping for passengers. Indeed, it is not yet absolutely certain that our railway tracks are yet fairly fit for trains running at fifty or sixty miles an hour. The fast postal trains must stand the test of Winter weather before we can call them completely successful. When the road-bed is frozen as hard as granite, the blows of a heavy train on the rails meet with no elasticity. We must wait till the Winter has come and gone before we decide that we have not already attempted a higher speed than the condition of our railways will justify.

POLITICAL NOTES.

Hon. Adolphus E. Wenzell is again the Democratic candidate for Assembly in Sullivan County.

A Western paper suggests this ticket in 1876: For President, U. S. Grant; for Vice President, Samuel J. Tilden.

The Democrats of the First District of Oneida County have nominated Richard U. Sherman for re-election to the Assembly.

The San Francisco Alta says that Senator Bush, of Los Angeles, Cal., a Booth man two years ago, is now a square-toed Democrat.

The Republican county ticket in Ulster County, nominated on Thursday, is: For Treasurer, E. M. Brigham; Justice of Sessions, Simon P. Lyons.

The full official vote for member of Congress in the Second District of California was: Page, Republican, 13,624; Larkin, Democrat, 12,329; Tuttle, Independent, 5,414.

The Pennsylvania Democrats took decided ground in the platform against the national banks. Their candidate for Governor is a stockholder in one, and has been for years.

Hosmer P. McKoon has declined the Republican nomination for Special County Judge in Oneida, and the committee has substituted the name of John H. Knox, of Utica.

Maryland papers say that at the request of Controller Woolford and in consequence of rumors of irregularities, Gov. Groome will order an immediate investigation of the books of the State Treasury.

The Boston Journal reports that Mr. Henry H. Faxon, of Quincy, and Mr. Henry D. Cushing, of Boston, who have furnished the most of the funds for the Temperance people in years past, are decidedly opposed to the Prohibitionists nominating a candidate for Governor in Massachusetts this year.

The Republicans of Orleans County nominated the following ticket on Wednesday: For Member of Assembly, J. D. Billings; School Commissioner, Edward Posson; Superintendent of the Poor, George Clark; County Treasurer, Joseph Wall; Coroner, I. H. Taylor; Justice of Sessions, Henry M. Gibson.

The Brunswick (Me.) Telegraph relates an incident which occurred at the polls in that town on election day. A Frenchman presented himself, and his vote was challenged on the ground that he was an alien. The Selectmen asked him, "Where were you born?" He replied, "My father said I was born in Bath, but mother said I was born in Canada." "Which knows best?" was the next question. "Mother, I think," was the reply. His vote was refused.

The campaign in Iowa is becoming active as the election approaches. Among the Republican speakers now on the stump are Samuel J. Kirkwood, George G. Wright, James Harlan, Hiram Price, George W. McCrary, Gov. C. C. Carpenter, H. O. Pratt, J. W. McDill, J. Fred Meyers, J. B. Young, B. R. Sherman, and M. B. Castle. Some of the names call upold times, as they belong to the early leaders and champions of the party.

The Augusta (Ga.) Constitutionalist thus gives expression to its anticipations: "We are disposed to believe that all Democratic elements will harmonise at the national convention, making a common cause against radicalism, and relegating the financial question to a secondary place, leaving it to Congress for adjudication, where it properly belongs. But these New-York marplots will bear watching. They have deceived us over and over again, and will rule or ruin if not summarily checked."

The Democratic Committee of Mississippi has issued a long address. They accuse Gov. Ames of endeavoring to blacken the fair name of the State, and assert that in no part of the Union does there prevail more perfect peace or a greater respect for the law, or a greater desire to preserve order, than in Mississippi; they appeal to the people not to abate one jot or tittle of the earnest zeal and determination they have hitherto manifested to rescue the State from the corrupt horde of adventurers and their ignorant and blind allies, and close with an earnest injunction to them to be patient, yet firm and determined.

A. Dudley Mann, late of Kentucky, and formerly United States Assistant Secretary of State, who went to Europe as a Confederate Commissioner in 1861 and has never returned, has had the kindness to send to a Democratic Kentuckian a long letter suggesting how, in his opinion, the "Conservatives" can play the cards "judiciously or sufficiently adroitly" to win the next Presidency. He says they ought not to take any useful man from either branch of Congress, and advises them to nominate Gov. William Allen, of Ohio, for the first place, and Gov. Tilden, of this State, for the second place on the Presidential ticket.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE ENGLISH OPERA.

The sale of seats for the season of English Opera, to commence on Oct. 11, at Booth's Theatre, will be opened on Monday morning next. There is every reason to anticipate a series of very attractive and interesting entertainments. Besides what we may call the stock-works of the English répertoire, that is to say, "The Bohemian Girl," "Maritana," "The Rose of Castile," and "The Talisman," the Italian répertoire is to be drawn upon for "Fra Diavolo." "Mignon," "Il Trovatore," and according to promise, "Gli Ugonotti," while an opera, altogether new to local audiences, Sir Jules Benedict's "Lily of Killarney," is to be the novel element of the season. Knowing that the performance of these works, and of half a dozen others, to be brought out as circumstances may direct, are likely to be conspicuously good in point of ensemble, and knowing, too, that Miss Kellogg's admirers are legion, a brisk demand for seats may be safely predicted.

THE TITIENS CONCERT.

We have already mentioned the fact that Mme. Titiens will sing, on Monday, the grand air from "Der Freyschütz," Arditi's "L'Ardita," and Handel's "With Verdure Clad." To these important elements of the programme we have now to add Wieniawski's "Faust" and Paganini's "Di Tanti Palpiti," to be played by M. Sauret, and a concerto by Beethoven, and Thalberg's fantasia on "Don Juan," which compositions will be executed by Mme. Goddard.

TO-DAY'S MATINEES.

"La Fille de Madame Angot" will be the matinée opera at the Lyceum.

"Around the World" may be enjoyed at the Academy of Music this afternoon.

"Our Boys" is to be performed at to-day's matinée at the Fifth Avenue Theatre.

There will be a matinée performance of "The Flying Scud" at Booth's Theatre to-day.

"The Mighty Dollar" will be acted at the Park Theatre this afternoon as well as this evening.

The last matinée performance of "Colonel Sellers" may be witnessed at the Union Square Theatre to-day.

The usual Saturday matinée entertainments are announced at the Theatre Comique, the Olympic, and the Parisian Varieties.

DOMESTIC GOSSIP.

Miss Jane Coombs was in Albany.

Mr. Frank Mayo was this week in Buffalo.

Mr. G. L. Fox acts in Connecticut next week.

Miss Lotta was this week at the Boston Theatre.

The Vokes Family was in Cincinnati this week.

Mrs. Chanfrau performed this week in Pennsylvania.

Miss Maggie Mitchell performed this week in Providence.

The "Kit Carson Dramatic Combination" has come to grief.

Mme. Camilla Urso begins her concert tour on Oct. 5, in Hartford.

Mr. E. L. Davenport and Mr. Barry Sullivan acted this week in Philadelphia.

Mr. Edwin Adams played last week in Elmira. Mr. Couldock appeared there also.

Miss Charlotte Thompson acted this week at the Olympic Theatre in St. Louis.

Mrs. Oates and her troupe appear at the Providence Opera-house next week.

Mr. Rignold acted this week in Baltimore, and performs next week in Washington.

A new "American society play," called "White Sulphur," is about to be represented in Cincinnati.

FOREIGN NOTES.

The new play at the Parisian Théâtre Historique is called "Les Muscadins."

The season of English opera at the Princess' Theatre in London, under the management of Mr. Carl Rosa, has been entered upon with success.

Mme. Patti had left Dieppe to sing at four concerts about to be given by the pianist-composer, Kuhe, and for which she was to receive 40,000 francs.

M. Gounod is said to be engaged on a grand opera in five acts, the subject of which is borrowed from one of Alexandre Dumas' best dramas, "Henri III. et sa Cour."

"Faust" has been produced at the Paris Grand Opera, with the usual splendors of mise en scène, and ballet and chorus, and with the usual weakness of cast.

The accounts of the Society of Mutual Help of Italian Dramatic Artists, show that the society possessed at the end of 1874 the sum of 22,454 lire in rentes, and in cash 760 lire.

The Paris Vaudeville has added to its never-ending, ever-popular Procès Veauradieux, a charming little one-act piece in verse, by M. Marc-Monnier, entitled "Madame Lili."

The vicissitudes of the Paris Théâtre Lyrique—that theatre which has a director, and a subvention, and a répertoire, but never a house wherein to instal itself—continue to amuse the public.

Mr. Charles Matthews is filling an engagement at the Gaiety Theatre in London. He has appeared in a new comedy, called "My Awful Dad," the idea of which was suggested by Dumas' "Le Père Prodigue."

Mlle. Albani had returned to England to be ready for the Norwich Festival. She has just concluded a short but successful engagement at the Fenice Theatre in Venice, where she appeared in "La Sonnambula," "Rigoletto," "Puritani," and other pieces.

The Philharmonic Theatre, in London, was to reopen for the season on Oct. 2, under the direction of Mr. Richard Temple, with "Les Georgiennes," by Offenbach, and a revival of "The Zoo," by Arthur Sullivan. Miss Rose Bell is engaged for "Les Georgiennes."

The "Reine de Chypre" had been given at Brussels for the opening of the Téâtre de la Monnaie. MM. Warot, Devozod, and Echetto met with great favor. Mlle. Bernardi, the new contralto, and M. Moriet, baritone, who played the part of Mocenigo, ordinarily assumed by a second tenor, were well received.

On October 17, in the presence of a distinguished company, Mme. Adelina Patti performed the ceremony of laying the foundation-stone of the new Central London Throat and Ear Hospital, in the Gray's-inn road, London, which is to supersede the present insufficient building in Manchester street, close by.

In Leipsic, at a recent matinée in honor of Franz Liszt, the following performers appeared: Misses Gottschalk, Stürmer, Redeker, Steinacker, also Messrs. Gura, Rebling, Schmidt, Pinner, Zarenebski, Drönewolf, Raab, Fr. Grützmacher, from Dresden; Wenzel, and Clans. The programme was as follows: Choruses of Tritons, Muses, and Reapers from "Prometheus and Mignon: Freudvoll und leidvoll;" fantasia and fugue upon B A C H, (H in the German scale is B flat;) the 137th Psalm, Kyrie and the Missa Solemnis; chorus of angels from "Faust;" Vatergruft; elegy for piano-forte, violoncello, harp, and harmonium; several compositions by Liszt.

Paris is soon to possess the doubtful boon of another theatre devoted to the opera bouffe and other kindred styles of the drama, in the shape of the new and pretty Salle Taitbout, on the street of the same name. The company will be very strong, including among its female members Madame Celine Chaumont. The opening piece will probably be a new operetta, entitled "La Cruche Cassée."

The management of the Venetian Fenice intends to mount for the Winter season three works: "The Mercante di Venezia," by Pinsuti, performed at Bologna two years ago, but new to Venice; "La Gitana," by Pisani, and Schira's "Lia," which have not yet been represented anywhere. The Teatro Goldoni will also play opera in November. Signor and Signora Malvezzi, the contralto Ebbe Treves, and the baritone De Anna are engaged.

It is possible, remarks the American Register, of Paris, that we are not to have the "Paul and Virginia" of M. Victor Massé at the Opéra Comique after all, as certain difficulties are said to have arisen in the negotiations with Mlle. Heilbron, her ideas respecting salary being, it is said, more American than Parisian. As the prima donna in question achieved but a limited success on our boards, it is hard to imagine what her American trip can have had to do with the exaggeration of her pretensions. However, as Capoul was specially engaged to create the part of Paul, it is to be hoped that the management will come to terms, if not with Mlle. Heilbron, then with some other prima donna.

The Vienna Stadt Theatre has opened its doors with the "Antigone" of Sophocles and the music which Mendelssohn wrote for the ancient tragedy. The work, mounted with great care, was given with a number of choristers from the Akademischen Gesangverein. The arena was specially arranged for the performance of "Antigone;" the stage was of the form which it had at the time of Sophocles. At the front of the orchestra was grouped the double chorus which remain round the altar of the gods. This is the first time that the "Antigone" has been played in Vienna; until now only musical fragments have been heard in concerts. Success has rewarded the exertions of Manager Laube.

The Paris correspondent of the London Times writes on Sept. 16: The revival of an old comedy, by Sedaine, "Le Philosophe sans le Savoir" filled the Théâtre Français to-night with an audience such as is rarely seen at this time of the year. The fact that a débutante, Mlle. Baretta, would play the ingenue part of Victorine was also a considerable source of attraction. Mlle. Baretta played in a way which gives promise of her being one of the first actresses of the day. For the first three acts she seemed to be an ordinary débutante, well taught, like all who appear on the Français, but nothing more. Her opportunities were in truth small, and though her by-play was good, there was not much of it. But from the moment when Victorine begins to suspect the cause of young Vanderck's absence the character alters, and so did the actress. There was the restless anxiety of the girl, the natural timidity belonging to her social position, and, finally, the burst of womanly feeling which, tearing aside the conventionalities of life, seeks only the truth in its terror. When Victorine appealed to the elder Vanderck and her father there were tears falling down the cheeks of many spectators, but when the girl knew the truth, gave that long, heartrending wail, and sank crushed in mind and body, there was first a pause, and then a roar shook the house such as I have never heard in France. Yet when her lover returned, and Victorine was almost forgotten, Mlle. Baretta still kept up the character. Her eyes, fixed upon the young man restored, as it were to life, made one see that the actress not merely knew her part, but felt it. It is only necessary to add that there was a unanimous call on the fall of the curtain for the lady who, if I mistake not, will take the highest rank in her profession.

MR. HATCH ACCOMMODATED.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

In reply to Mr. Hatch's letter of the 29th inst. I simply say that I waive everything contained in my previous acceptance to which objection has been taken, and accept Mr. Hatch's latest proposition, namely, to sail the Dauntless against the Resolute in "cruising trim in smooth or rough seas," the match to be according to the rules of the New-York Yacht Club, so far as they do not conflict with the conditions named by Mr. Hatch.

Now, as Mr. Hatch will not sail for a cup, nor I for a dinner, let us, then, sail for the mere pleasure of the thing, as a test of seamanship. As for the number of hours within which the race must be made, let the Regatta Committee decide. I again name Saturday, the 30th of October, as the day, and 11 A. M. as the hour for starting, providing, of course, there be an eight-knot breeze or upward blowing.

Your obedient servant,
JAMES GORDON BENNETT.

No. 425 FIFTH AVENUE, Friday, Oct. 1, 1875.

OBITUARY.

HON. JOHN S. SNEDEKER.

Hon. John S. Snedeker, about fifty-five years of age, a well-known citizen of Jamaica, died at his residence in that village yesterday morning at 5 o'clock. Mr. Snedeker at one time represented Queens County in the Assembly, served for some time as County Clerk, and at the time of his death and for many years previous had been one of the Justices of the Peace of Jamaica. He was a man of high attainments as an attorney. He had for some time been suffering from paralysis, but had so far recovered as to be able to walk a considerable distance without support. Another stroke on Thursday night attacked his throat, however, and it proved fatal. The funeral will take place on Sunday.

THE NAVAL DEFALCATION AT SAN FRANCISCO.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—Naval Paymaster J. S. Cunningham arrived here last night to relieve Paymaster Spaulding. The Court of Inquiry will assemble at Mare Island Oct. 5 to examine Spaulding's accounts. The latter are supposed to be involved by the speculations of G. M. Pinney, late Purchasing Clerk. Admiral Rogers, of the Mare Island Navy-yard, states that he does not know the amount of the defalcation, but it is supposed to be very large. Spaulding, last night, stated that the loss will fall on individuals and not on the department; that Pinney's frauds consisted in fraudulently filling up certificates for payment, due on contracts, which had been signed in blank by Spaulding, and hypothecating them to certain parties, with notes of responsible parties attached, and that the makers and indorsers of the notes will be liable. Spaulding claims he knew nothing of the transactions until the certificates were presented for payment.

THE CATHOLIC PROVINCIAL COUNCIL.

TORONTO, Ontario, Oct. 1.—Yesterday the first Roman Catholic Provincial Council, at present sitting in St. Michael's Cathedral, held its second public session, when the following decrees were read for the third time in presence of the Bishops, theologians, and the people, and passed, to be sent to Rome: First, adopting and promulgating the decrees of the Vatican Council and Apostolical Constitutions; second, duties and privileges of Archbishops; third, on helping poor missions; fourth, creating and distributing funds for infirm priests; fifth, on education of clerical students; sixth, on Catholic schools and colleges; seventh, duties of preachers; eighth, priests prohibited from exercising any worldly employment.

PRESIDENT GRANT AT OMAHA.

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 1.—President Grant, accompanied by Mrs. Grant, Col. Frederick Grant and wife, ex-Secretary Borie and wife, Secretary Belknap, Gen. Alvord, and a number of other distinguished gentlemen, arrived here this morning from Des Moines, Iowa. They were hospitably entertained by the citizens, together with a committee of the Merchants' Club, and driven around the city and to the barracks. A public reception was held by the President in the court-room in the new Custom-house, after which the high school was visited, where all the school children of the city were assembled. The President and party left for Colorado this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

WISCONSIN POLITICS.

ASPECT OF THE CAMPAIGN.

DAMAGING DEVELOPMENTS AGAINST THE REFORM ADMINISTRATION—AN ATTEMPT TO DISPLACE TAYLOR AS A CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR—A SECRET DISCUSSION OF HIS CONDUCT BY THOSE WHO KNOW HIM.

From Our Own Correspondent.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Monday, Sept. 27, 1875.

The campaign is unavoidably personal. The opposing platforms are very like on essential points—or at any rate, the Reform platform says nothing that is worthy of opposition or consideration. It is hardly entitled to be regarded as the platform of a party, having been drawn up, presented, and adopted by the personal friends of Gov. Taylor, whose renomination was at the same time provided for, notwithstanding the opposition of a large number of the leading Reformers.

GOV. TAYLOR AS SEEN BY HIS FRIENDS.

Some weeks before the Reform Convention a meeting of prominent members of the party was held in this city. Under the belief that the proceedings would never become public, the freest discussion of the merits and demerits of Gov. Taylor as a candidate for renomination was indulged in. A reporter, however, by securing a position by the open window of the room in which the meeting was held, was able to make a report which has since been acknowledged by the participants to be essentially correct. The meeting was attended by Hon. Sam. Burchard, Congressman from the Fifth District; Gen. E. S. Bragg, Reform candidate for the United States Senate last Winter, two members of the Reform State Central Committee, and other gentlemen of prominence. Mr. Burchard and Gen. Bragg did not hesitate to say that Gov. Taylor was totally unfit, mentally and morally, for the position; that he had permitted political adventurers to control his movements, which had resulted in the most serious injury to the industrial interests of the State, and had completely stopped the building of railroads and the introduction of foreign capital; but, by his petty prosecution of the railways, Taylor had secured the favor of the farmers, and, as a matter of policy he should be renominated; that the refusal to renominate would be regarded as a rebuke, as a condemnation of the Reform Administration, and would consequently destroy the hopes of the party. Other gentlemen spoke in a similar strain of his incapacity, but held that the party should throw him over.

ENUMERATION OF HIS DISQUALIFICATIONS.

Subsequently, five of these leading Reformers, including the two members of the State Central Committee, published a manifesto, in which Gov. Taylor is charged with having so managed his Administration as to bring the Reform Party into disrepute; that he has appointed to office notoriously corrupt men; that he has, through his numerous appointees, arranged for his renomination without regard to the welfare of the party; that, when the State demanded a solution of the vexed problem of Legislative control of railroads, he instituted petty suits before Justices of the Peace against station agents, to the obstruction of business and the incitement of the ignorant to hostility toward capitalists; that evidence of his attempt to bribe an official is publicly exhibited and no attempt has been made to meet it. Then they pass to specifications; among others, that he appointed as Treasury agent, or informer, one Rev. Dr. Ebert, who has pursued a system of petty persecutions for the collection of illegal license fees, instances of persecutions being cited; that when the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court had written out his decision on the question of legislative control of railroads—the most important question for years—he impudently ordered the Chief Justice to reduce his opinion at least one-half—this to save the cost in printing to give an impression of economy; that members of his official household were visiting every portion of the State, at the public expense, for the purpose of arranging for the selection of only Taylor delegates to the State Convention. At the convention, the number of counties not represented was remarkable, and it has since transpired that the delegates present from many of the counties had been improperly elected. Indeed, the report of the Committee on Credentials has been proved to have been prepared long before the meeting of the convention. It was transparent that the proceedings merely followed a programme arranged by Gov. Taylor's domestic Cabinet. The entire list of State officers was renominated.

WHAT THE REPUBLICANS HAVE TO ENCOUNTER.

The subsequent developments show that Taylorism and not reform (real or so-called) is the opposition the Republicans are to meet at the polls. And these developments will doubtless astonish those who are not familiar with the character of the men who constitute the present Administration of Wisconsin. Here personality is unavoidable. Nothing positive has ever been urged in behalf of Gov. Taylor; the arguments have all been negative—that he is not dishonest; that he can not be made the tool of designing men. The only thing left for the Republicans is either to admit these things or disprove them. In the matter of the Treasury agency, suspicions of fraud have long existed. Gen. Monteith, a prominent citizen, visited the office of the Secretary of State for the purpose of examining the records, which, during every Republican Administration, have been open to the public. The Secretary refused decidedly to permit the books to be examined, giving Gov. Taylor as his authority. Mr. McBride, another prominent citizen and business man of Madison, was also refused permission to examine the books. This lent additional color to the suspicions that are rife.

THE WORST YET.

But the most damaging development relates to Gov. Taylor himself. A few days ago Capt. Carter, who served honorably in the war, published a letter, in which he stated that Gov. Taylor had been guilty of a fraudulent transaction during the war, which showed his moral unfitness for the position he occupies. The story, which has since been proven true, is as follows: In 1862, Taylor was Chairman of his town—Cottage Grove—and in that capacity was instructed by the town to secure recruits for the Army to fill up the quota of the town, paying such bounty as might be necessary. Col. Farr was a recruiting officer in Madison at the time, and Taylor applied to him, stating that the town would pay $200 each for recruits, and that if he (Farr) would secure men for less than that, the difference should be divided between Taylor and Farr. The latter secured recruits at from $100 to $150 bounty each, for whom Taylor charged the town $200 each, dividing with Farr in this way about $500, thus defrauding the recruits or the town out of that amount. Pressed on all sides to deny this story, Taylor refused, but finally authorized a Reform paper to contradict it in general terms. Capt. Carter having given the name of Col. Farr as his authority, that gentleman, who is a member of Gov. Taylor's staff, was appealed to, and he has just made an affidavit, confessing his share in the transaction, and repeating that Gov. Taylor did divide with him the profits so obtained. The town records show that $200 each was paid by Taylor to recruits; a number of these recruits are now prepared to testify that they did not receive that amount.

ATTEMPT TO BRIBE A TOWN OFFICER.

Another instance of Gov. Taylor's peculiar views of honesty is even more strongly established. Desiring to secure the passage of a certain appropriation in his (Dane) county, he wrote to one of the Supervisors asking him to vote for the measure, and inclosing $10. The letter, with the $10 bill pinned to it, is exhibited in Madison. This charge Gov. Taylor's friends have, naturally, persistently ignored. Another charge, made by Mr. Sat. Clark, a prominent leader in the Reform Party, whose grievance is that Taylor promised him the position of Warden of the State Prison, is to the effect that Gov. Taylor, as Chief Marshal of the Agricultural Society during a State Fair, drew the pay of his assistants and put it in his pocket, where he kept it until the facts were made public and he was forced to disgorge. The trial on this charge has been comfortably postponed until after the election.

THE REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE.

These are the facts to which the Republicans have given prominence to disprove Gov. Taylor's possession of those negative qualities urged in his behalf. Personal, certainly, but at the same time legitimate and necessary. The only reason why counter-charges have not been made is because the Republican candidate is less available as a target. One thing has been urged against him, and if it is proper that it should figure in the campaign the Republicans are not disposed to hide it. It is that he rents rooms in one of his blocks in Milwaukee to a gambler, and the charge is doubtless true. But Mr. Ludington has never yet betrayed a public trust. He is now serving his fourth term as Mayor in this strongly Democratic city, and has the confidence of the public in his personal integrity and the esteem of all for his official excellence. The only other indictment found against the Republicans by the Reformers is that of Major Baetz, late State Treasurer, and candidate for that position. It is asserted that he placed $10,000 of the State's funds in the Madison Bank and drew interest on it for his personal use; that the bank broke, leaving the State out just that amount. This admits of a very simple explanation, the main point being that the State did not lose a cent. "The law," says a Reform paper, "supposes the Treasurer keeps the funds in the vaults of the State." To which a Republican journal responds: "The law also supposes a man controls his domestic affairs. In both cases the law is a fool." It has been the practice since the organization of the State, under whatever Administration, for the Treasurer to deposit the funds in some or several banks. Right or wrong, the practice has been general. At the request of Mr. Mills, Superintendent of the State Hospital, Major Baetz deposited $10,000 in the bank of Mr. Mills, at Madison. When a requisition for $10,000 was made by Mr. Mills, as Superintendent of the hospital, the Treasurer gave him a check for that amount deposited in Mr. Mills' bank, taking a receipt for it. Instead of drawing out the money for the use of the hospital, Mr. Mills allowed it to remain. When information of the probable failure of the bank reached Mills, instead of drawing out the money he accepted collaterals. After the failure of the bank he was compelled to surrender the collaterals and share the fate of the other creditors. The State holds Mr. Mills responsible for the amount, considering that Major Baetz's interest in the transaction ceased when he secured a receipt for the money. To show that the practice of placing public money in private banks is observed by the Reformers, it is only necessary to mention the case of the State Prison Warden. He deposited $9,000 in the Waupun Bank. The Cashier absconded, breaking the bank and losing for the State the $9,000, an instance the Reformers completely ignore.

PROBABLE RESULT OF THE ELECTION.

As to the general outlook, it hardly seems possible that Taylor should be re-elected. Indeed, an effort is being made by Milwaukee Reformers to displace Taylor and put Fratt, of Racine, at the head of the ticket. It is, however, quite improbable that it will be done at this late day. But none of the leading men who worked for the Reform ticket two years ago are working for it now. They either oppose it or are indifferent. On the whole it will be as well to allow my former prediction of 10,000 majority for the Republican ticket to stand. In the light of recent events it does not appear at all too sanguine a prediction.

AFFAIRS AT FALL RIVER.

THE MILLS FILLING UP WITH OUTSIDE HELP.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Oct. 1.—Twenty-eight mills visited this morning show a large increase on yesterday's numbers, despite the efforts made at the Park meeting yesterday, by a few of the leaders, to induce the help to still remain away from work with the expectation of coercing the manufacturers in a week or ten days to reconsider and modify their document. Large numbers of new help are being received from Connecticut, Maine, New-Hampshire, and Lawrence. Nearly all the mills have their full complement of spinners. The weavers are a little more backward, but the relays arriving on every train from other places will soon fill the vacant places of the disaffected ones if they do not return to work. Numbers of the help have lost their old positions, which are taken by outsiders, and that in itself has been a great inducement to an early application on the part of many. The difficulty is now virtually ended. The military and Police remain on duty, but no disturbances are reported.

THE WEATHER.

SYNOPSIS AND PROBABILITIES.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2—1 A. M.—The pressure has increased very generally over the whole country east of the Mississippi. North-west to south-west winds, and very cool, clear weather prevail over the lakes, and thence to Missouri and Kentucky. Northerly and north-westerly winds, falling temperature, and clear weather in Tennessee, the Gulf and South Atlantic States, following coast rains in the latter. Falling temperature, northwesterly winds, and cloudy weather have prevailed in the Middle and East Atlantic States, with rain in the latter. The rivers have fallen at St. Louis, Cairo, Memphis, and Cincinnati.

PROBABILITIES

For the lower lakes, the Middle States, and New-England, rising barometer, north-westerly winds, decidedly cooler, clearing, and clear weather, followed by frost on Sunday in and north of Pennsylvania.

For the upper lake region, the Upper Mississippi and Lower Missouri Valleys, stationary or falling barometer, north-west to west winds, shifting to south-east, warmer and partly cloudy weather.

For the Ohio Valley and Tennessee, the Gulf and South Atlantic States, rising barometer, north-west to north-east winds, cooler, clear weather, followed by falling barometer from Texas to Kentucky.

HORSE DISEASE IN BOSTON.

BOSTON, Oct. 1.—Undoubted symptoms of the epizootic have made their appearance among the horses of this city. Quite a number of horses of the railroad and express companies are laid up to-day.

MARINE DISASTER—A SCHOONER ABANDONED.

The schooner Athlete, of Digby, Nova Scotia, which sailed from Digby for Demerara on the 28th of August last, after being nine days at sea, and while in latitude 24° 25', longitude 56°, was suddenly struck by a hurricane blowing from the east to east-south-east. The vessel was "hove to," the maintopsail cut away, and the deck-load of spars thrown overboard to ease her. Notwithstanding these precautions, however, the vessel still labored heavily. On Sept. 7 the wind changed to east-south-east, and turned the vessel on her beam ends, sweeping off everything on deck, carrying away her "head gear," and smashing her boat. The planks of the transom were started, the steering gear broken, a hole broken in the quarter-deck cabin, and the mainboom carried away. Finding the vessel rapidly filling with water and liable to capsize, the Captain ordered the foreyards to be cut away, when the foremast broke off eight feet from the deck and the mainmast about twenty feet. Relieved of this weight the vessel righted, but the crew were obliged to betake themselves to the cabin for safety, and to save some small stores of provisions. Shortly afterward the wind changed to the north-east, but abated none of its violence. The vessel leaked very badly, six and a half feet being in her hold. After beating about in a helpless condition for several days, the crew at length, on the 15th ult., sighted the bark Camilla, whose commander, Capt. Christen, immediately dispatched a boat to rescue them. The crew express their deepest thanks for the kind treatment they experienced while on board the latter bark.

LOCAL POLITICS.

The movement to place Algernon S. Sullivan on the Tammany ticket for Recorder is said to be gaining strength daily.

Messrs. Lorillard and Kane, of the New-York Yacht Club, have been mentioned in connection with the Assembly candidacy in the Eleventh District.

Mr. Isaac L. Dayton is a prominent Republican candidate for Civil Justice in the Sixth District. Willis S. Paine and John T. McGowan are his opponents on the Democratic side.

James W. Gerard, Jr., is regarded as a possible candidate for the Tammany nomination for Senator in the Seventh District. At present he holds the post of Inspector of Public Schools.

In the Fifth Aldermanic District William Wade, ex-President of the Board of Assistant Aldermen, and Alderman John J. Morris are the Republican favorites for the Aldermanic nominations.

Sidney P. Nichols will probably be the Tammany nominee for Senator against Hon. James W. Booth in the Fifth District. With even ordinary exertion on the part of the Republicans Mr. Booth's election is considered certain.

Frederick G. Gedney, the leading Republican candidate for Civil Justice in the Seventh District is making a strong fight for the office. Alfred T. Ackert, the present Tammany incumbent, is looking for a place on the Marine Court bench.

In the Seventh Judicial District Hon. Walter S. Pinckney is making a strong effort to obtain the Republican nomination for Civil Justice. The Seventeenth Assembly District Republicans are pressing the claims of J. C. Whittemore.

Ex-Mayor Opdyke is making a strong canvass for the Senatorship in the Eighth District. The feeling against Hugh Moore, the Tammany Senator, is very strong, both among Independent Democrats and Republicans, and, with a full vote, Mr. Opdyke's chances are very promising.

Henry C. Robinson, President of the Twenty-first Assembly District Republican Association, is talked of as the party's nominee for Alderman in the Harlem District. He is popular, both with the regulars and independents, and would, if nominated, receive the votes of both.

In the Thirteenth Assembly District Charles H. Duell, a son of Congressman Duell of the Syracuse District, is receiving the Republican support for the Assembly. Hon. Charles S. Spencer has been offered the nomination but business affairs have prevented his acceptance.

James P. Angel, President of the Republican Association of the Twenty-fourth Ward, is being pressed by the Republicans of his district for Justice of the Marine Court. Mr. Angel received the Republican nomination for Civil Justice in the Tenth District last year, and ran 1,000 ahead of his ticket.

The Republicans of the Thirteenth Assembly District have opened a new and handsomely-furnished hall in West Sixteenth street, where the future conventions of the district will be held. The hall is fitted up in the most complete manner, and is a creditable evidence of the enterprise of the local Republican organization.

The Tammany Hall Committee on Discipline met yesterday afternoon at the Wigwam, on Fourteenth street, to make choice of members for the new delegations to the General Committee from the Second and Seventeenth Assembly Districts, which are to be reorganized. No selection was made for either district, but the new committees will probably be announced at the meeting of the Committee on Organization to be held to-day.

The Republicans of the old First District of Westchester (the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Wards) are generally in favor of nominating George H. Foster to the Assembly. Mr. Foster is a lawyer, a member of the firm of Weeks & Foster, and is popular with the citizens of the district generally. Hon. G. Hilton Scribner, ex-Secretary of State, is also mentioned for the office. On the Democratic side Mayor Courter, of Yonkers, and Alderman Henry D. Purroy, of Fordham, are the leading candidates. The anti-Tammany interest are backing Dennis R. Sheils.

THE CANAL FRAUDS.

THE SMALL FISH THUS FAR CAUGHT IN THE NET—DETAILS OF THE ACCUSATIONS.

The Buffalo Commercial Advertiser of the 1st inst. says: "Indictments have been found by the grand jury against ex-Canal Superintendent D. Clinton Welch, ex-Division Engineer J. Frederick Behn, and a second indictment has been found against Mr. Ellis Webster. Two more were brought this morning against John Kelly, present Superintendent, the one for perjury and the other for bribery. The amount of money involved in these cases is not large, but the charges are of a very grave character. Messrs. Welch and Webster stand accused of conspiring to defraud the State in the purchase of coal for use on State dredges and tugs. They are also charged with committing perjury. The latter offense is the natural, in fact the necessary, outgrowth of the attempt to commit fraud. It is only justice to the accused, however, to suspend judgment until they are proved guilty. But the indictments give an ugly array of figures and go into particulars and details in a way that gives the whole matter a very bad look. It is alleged that the State was charged with $707 50 on account of coal 'actually and truly' delivered, when in point of fact only $661 45 worth was received. The law requires that after a bill is made against the State for material or labor, its correctness shall be verified by the oath of the person furnishing it. Mr. Webster made affidavit that the bills were true in every particular. Mr. Welch, as Superintendent, swore that the amounts of coal named in the bills had been received. The transactions named in the indictments are only two out of a great many, and the inference naturally will be that if fraud was perpetrated in these cases, it was in other purchases and sales of a similar character. Mr. Behn's offense is that of being interested in a dredge employed on the State works while he himself was a State official. The law expressly prohibits any State officer from being in any way interested in contracts, work, or material. The accused however, claims that he can prove an alibi for his dredge; that it was at work in Toledo harbor at the time covered by the indictment. It will devolve on the prosecution to show that such was not the case. In this connection we venture to suggest that after the Investigating Commission is through with the small fry, it will be well earnestly to set about catching the larger fish. The State has been defrauded of millions, according to Gov. Tilden's showing, on canal work, but it would take a great many such jobs as have been unearthed here to aggregate a million dollars. There are larger fish in the canal than the commission has caught yet. Would it not be well to look into that Willard Johnson contract which the Governor named in his first message?"

A KANSAS WEDDING.

HOW ONE LOVER WAS DISAPPOINTED—A BRIDE WHOSE MOTTO WAS FIRST COME FIRST SERVED.

Kansas newspapers print a curious story of a recent occurrence in Holt County, that State. It runs thus: "A young lady, Miss Alice Carson, divided her attentions between two young men—a Mr. Kretzer, of Holt, and a Mr. Wheeler, of Atchison County. Both Kretzer and Wheeler were fatally enamored, and asked for the hand of Miss Alice. Both were accepted, and the wedding day set for each on the same day, though neither knew of the other's standing. Wheeler engaged a Methodist local minister, Mr. Callen, to tie the knot, and Kretzer procured the services of Rev. Mr. Edmonds. Wheeler and Callen arrived first, and the knot was tied, and Miss Alice became Mrs. Wheeler. The ceremony was hardly well over when Kretzer and Edmonds drove up. Imagine their astonishment when they learned that Alice was already married to Wheeler. An explanation was demanded by Kretzer. Wheeler couldn't see the necessity of his bride making explanations to any former lover, and put his foot down very peremptorily. Wheeler immediately flew off the handle—high words ensued, pistols were brandished, and there was apparently some danger of a dead bridegroom gracing the occasion, in which event we have no doubt the virgin widow would have promptly accepted the surviving lover. But no blood was spilled, the parties separating without any specific understanding upon social affairs."

The Holt County Sentinel courageously puts itself on record in denunciation of what it seems to regard as the principal outrage in the affair: "We think it wrong, and it works great injustice to the regular circuit minister by allowing the local preachers to to step in and carry off the perquisites of the regular ministers, as they need every dollar they get; and the performance of the marriage ceremony should and would bring many a dollar to them."

ROBBING THE MAILS.

Joseph Humeberger, a sergeant of the marines on the Minnesota, and who, since the frigate has been in port, has acted as its mail messenger, is awaiting a trial by court-martial, on the charge of robbing the mails. For some time valuable letters were missed by the officers, and although Humeberger was not suspected of the robberies, he was watched by Special Agent Sharratt, who detected him opening and destroying several letters. The money extracted from the letters was employed in playing policy in Ann street. After being allowed to repeat his practice a few times, he was finally arrested while opening a letter, and delivered over to the charge of Lieut. Sands of the Minnesota, who put him under close guard on board [illegible].

THE TURF.

THE JEROME PARK RACES.

GOOD SPORT EXPECTED TO-DAY — THE ENTRIES FOR THE JEROME STAKES.

The Fall meeting of the American Jockey Club commences to-day with indications favorable to a fine day's sport, as the programme furnishes five races, beginning with a dash of three-quarters of a mile, for all ages, with allowances for beaten maidens. This has nine entries, including D. McDaniel's ch. f. Mattie A., 3 years, 92 pounds; George Longstaff's blk. c. Rhadamanthus, 3 years, 95 pounds; J. G. K. Lawrence's b. c. Leander, 3 years, 95 pounds; P. Lorillard's ch. f. Springlet, 3 years, 92 pounds; J. A. Grinstead's b. f. Gilliflower, 3 years, 92 pounds; Fleetwood, 4 years, 108 pounds; D. D. Withers' ch. f. Tattoo, 3 years, 85 pounds; A. Taylor's ch. c. L. L., 3 years, 95 pounds, and b. f. Emma, 4 years, 105 pounds. This short race will doubtless be close and exciting, and although Mattie A. and Rhadamanthus are the prime favorites, several others have shown fine turns of speed. Following this will be the great event of the day—the Jerome Stakes, for three-year-olds, two miles—and of the forty-six nominations there will probably be seven starters, viz.: D. McDaniel's ch. c. Joe Cerns, by imp. Australian, out of Bettie Ward, who has not yet scored a victory as a three-year old; H. P. McGrath's ch. c. Aristides, by imp. Leamington, out of Sarong, who won the Kentucky Derby at Louisville in May, and the Withers Stake at Jerome Park in June. Since that time he has not done much, as he lost all form during the Summer campaign. He is, however, doing strong work, and McGrath was confident last night of carrying off the stake. His stable companion, Chesapeake, may also start, but it is doubtful. One of the most prominent candidates, however, is Gen. Harney's br. c. Ozark, by Pat Malloy, out of imp. Sunny South, a colt that has shown himself formidable whenever he appeared. He has started six times this season, was twice a winner over Aristides and Chesapeake at Long Branch, and divided the honors with Milner in the Kenner Stake at Saratoga. Next on the list is James McCormack's b. c. Rambler, formerly Consignee, by Lexington out of imp. Cairn Gorme, by Cotherstone. He has one race to his credit at Saratoga, in which he showed considerable speed, but although highly bred he has shown no capacity to compete with first-class colts. E. A. Clabaugh's ch. c. Viator, by Vauxhall, out of Heatherbell, is a dangerous rival, and has two stakes to his credit at Saratoga, and on both occasions proved himself a stout and reliable colt, especially in the sweepstakes for three-year olds, one mile and a half, in which he gave Warwick and Vinaigrette 5 pounds and an easy beating on a heavy track in 2:48½. W. H. Chamberlin's b. c. Tom Ochiltree, by Lexington, out of Katona, burst upon the racing world in the Spring with great brilliancy, but soon fell from favor and has done nothing since. Concluding the list is John O'Donnell's ch. c. Milner, by imp. Leamington, dam by Lexington, who ran third in the Belmont Stakes, second in the Travers Stakes, and ran a dead heat with Ozark in the Kenner Stakes. He has thus improved a point each time, and the friends of the stable feel confident of a victory for him to-day. In fact, the race is a very open one, and the speculators appear to be "all at sea" over the event, and will not invest largely on the result. The third race is the Nursery Stake for two-year olds, one mile, which has thirty-nine nominations, and five stables are announced to send representatives to the post, viz.: August Belmont, who will start the imp. fillies Dauntless, by Maccaroni, out of Artless, and Patience, by Parmesan, out of Patronage; Pierre Lorillard will start the b. g. Cyril, by Planet, out of Fairy, and b. f. Merciless, by imp. Eclipse, out of Barbarity; George L. Lorillard will have the br. c. Ambush, by Australian, out of Dolly Morgan, and ch. c. Sunburst, by Planet, out of Bettie Ward. Gen. Harney will be represented by the br. c. Fredericktown, by Pat Malloy, out of Kate Leonard, and Joseph Donahue by the ch. c. Leatherstocking, by Kentucky, out of imp. Fluke. The fourth race will be the Manhattan Handicap for all ages, one mile and a quarter, and there will be seven starters, including H. P. McGrath's br. c. Calvin, 3 years, 100 pounds; A. H. Torrence's ch. c. Woodfield, formerly Harry Felter, 4 years, 98 pounds; D. McDaniel & Co.'s ch. c. Willie Burke, 3 years, 94 pounds; and ch. f. Madge, 4 years, 112 pounds; P. Lorillard's b. c. Vassal, 3 years, 95 pounds; E. A. Clabaugh's b. c. Picolo, 4 years, 98 pounds; and W. R. Babcock's blk. c. Vanderbilt, 4 years, 102 pounds. This promises to be an exciting contest with the above weights. The concluding event will be a selling race with the usual allowances, one mile and an eighth, which has nine entries, including Fleetwood, 96 pounds; Springlet, 85 pounds; Graylag, 92 pounds; Leander, 105 pounds; Vim, 103 pounds; Josie B., 105 pounds; Mattie W., 98 pounds; Lutitia H., 93 pounds, and Caroline, 85 pounds.

POOL-SELLING LAST EVENING—THE FAVORITE STABLES.

The Turf Exchange, in Twenty-eighth street, Morrissey's Subscription Room, and Johnson's Club Room were well patronized last evening by betting men interested in the Jerome Park races. The pools, as a general thing, were not large, but the auctioneers worked lively, consequently the gross amount invested reached far up into the thousands. For the three-quarter-mile dash Mattie A. was made favorite, with Snedicor's black colt a good second, Leander third, Springlet fourth, and so on to the end of the list. For the Jerome Stakes, Price McGrath's stable brought the most money, although in a few pools Mr. O'Donnell's entries were looked upon with favor. Mr. P. Lorillard's stable was most fancied for the Nursery Stakes, although Mr. Belmont's youngsters also sold well. For the Manhattan handicap race of one and a quarter mile, Calvin's lot was backed to win, while McDaniel's Willie Burke and Madge were thought well of for second choice. The following table will show the average prices brought:

INDIANS CEDING LAND TO CANADA.

OTTAWA, Oct. 1.—Intelligence has been received at the Department of the Interior from Lieut. Gov. Morris that he had just returned to Fort Garry from Lake Winnipeg, where he had concluded a treaty with the Salteaux and Swampy Crees, at Berrin's River, Norway House, and mouth of the Saskatchewan. The territory surrendered covers both sides of the lake, and its estimated area, exclusive of water, is 50,000 square miles. By this treaty free navigation of a portion of the lower Saskatchewan will be secured, as well as free access to the shore and inlets of Lake Winnipeg.

ROOFING.—An article indorsed by most experienced architects and builders, as combining beauty and durability with fire-proof qualities and cheapness to an extraordinary degree is a valuable aid in building or repairing roofs, every community must hail with satisfaction, particularly where piers, factories, rolling mills, and general manufacturing establishments are located. Its testimonials are most numerous, reliable; well worth the investigation of all real estate owners and farmers who have an old roof to mend and preserve, or a new one to lay; an article free from tar, ready for use, low price, and easily applied with positive satisfaction, either as an ornament or for effectually stopping every leak! Proving the most economical roofing known to modern invention or skill, and having so many sterling points it has achieved such a widespread popularity and unrivaled reputation as to be in active demand throughout the United States and Canada; its patrons are thousands, and the production not only exceeds in magnitude that of all other similar roofings combined, but is unequaled in quality. Complete materials for a new steep or flat roof cost but four and a half cents a square foot, and the strict economy of making an old shingle roof fire and water proof, unites beauty with utility. These goods are commercially known as GLINES' RUBBER ROOFING and SLATE ROOFING PAINT, and are manufactured by New-York Slate Roofing Company, No. 8 Cedar street, New-York, No. 49 South Front street, Philadelphia. They agree to make roofs water-tight or no charge, and warrant all new roofs for a term of years. Their prices are very low and estimates free. Samples and 100 page book mailed any one stating where they saw this notice. Write at once and save money.—Advertisement.

MIGHT AND MIRTH OF LITERATURE.

THE MIGHT AND MIRTH OF LITERATURE. A Treatise on Figurative Language. In which upward of Six Hundred Writers are referred to, and Two Hundred and Twenty Figures Illustrated. Embracing a Complete Survey, on an entirely New Plan, of English and American Literature, interspersed with Historical Notices of the Progress of the Language, with Anecdotes of many of the Authors, and with Discussions of the Fundamental Principles of Criticism and of the Weapons of Oratory. By Prof. JOHN WALKER VILANT MACBETH, University of West Virginia. Crown 8vo, cloth. $2 50.

Under the form of a treatise on the use of figurative language, this is an overflowing cornucopia of criticism, rhetoric, historical and biographical notices, literary gossip, and characteristic extracts from the most remarkable specimens of English prose and poetry. * * * There are certainly few writers in this country, or any other, who possess such a knowledge of English literature, such critical acumen and discrimination, and such a gift of original and pungent comment as is here exhibited. The work is, of course, didactic in its character, but is pervaded by such a lively vein of humor, with so many piquant terms of expression, that it is anything but dry reading. The selections form a considerable portion of the work, embracing a great variety of writers and of subjects, and presenting a rare anthology of the beauties of English literature. It finds a standard of comparison and a test of criticism in the use of figures, and from this point of view illustrates the position of the most celebrated writers. The work will be interesting and valuable to scholars on account of its copious, critical, and bibliographical resources, while its perpetual vivacity, abundance of anecdote, and frequency of personal allusion, admirably adapt it for popular reading. It presents a phenomenon in the literary world.

HARPER & BROTHERS will send either of the above works by mail, postage prepaid, to any part of the United States or Canada, on receipt of the price.

THE NEW NOVEL, NORINE'S REVENGE, by MAY AGNES FLEMING, will be ready in a few days, by G. W. CARLETON & CO.

LOCAL MISCELLANY.

THE ISLAND INSTITUTIONS.

WORK OF THE LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE ON CRIME—VISIT TO THE WORK-HOUSE ON BLACKWELL'S ISLAND.

The Legislative Committee on Crime met yesterday at the Work-house on Blackwell's Island, to investigate the method of conducting that institution. Messrs. Campbell, Hess, and McGowan were present. Joseph Kane, Superintendent, testified that there were at present 1,110 inmates in the house, and they were about equally divided between males and females. They were sent there by the Police Magistrates only. The limit of the imprisonment there was six months. David McDonald, the Deputy Superintendent, was examined with respect to the general workings of the institution. He detailed the ordinary mode of life of the inmates, and said that every precaution was taken to improve their morals. To this end criminals were separated as much as possible from self-committed paupers, but it was very difficult to separate old criminals from young ones. He believed in a better system of separation if it could be observed, but the best was done that could be done under the circumstances. There were the largest opportunities for the practice of religion, and Protestant and Catholic ministers were constantly on the island. There were 346 escapes since the 1st of January, and as the keepers, by order of the Commissioners, were not allowed to carry arms, they had less opportunity of preventing escape.

Michael Brady, a self-committed inmate, said he could find work now if discharged, but the Commissioners concluded to keep him there three months. This story is denied by Commissioner Brennan, who asserts that he would discharge instantly, and with pleasure, all self-committed prisoners if they expressed a wish to be released.

Dr. Thomas H. Allen attributed the cause of pauperism and crime to drunkenness, and said nine-tenths of the inmates were imprisoned from that cause. Men were brought there suffering from the effects of a drunken debauch, and the term of imprisonment was so short that they scarcely recovered before they were released. He was in favor of a more extended term of imprisonment for drunkenness, asserting that if its victims were removed from its influence for a month a permanent cure might ensue. He condemned the existence of bucket shops as the cause of delirium tremens, and was in favor of a law which should exercise a proper supervision over the sale of liquors.

Father Chambon, the Catholic Chaplain of the Island institutions, concurred in the opinion that the vast majority of the criminals under his care were placed there because of their intemperate habits. From a religious stand-point he deemed a proper separation of Catholics and Protestants advisable, and that professors of these respective faiths should be compelled to attend their own religious worship. Regarding people who professed no faith he had nothing to say and did not want them in his fold. On the general question of religion he said that the members should not attend any but their own service, and that if a Catholic from any cause attended Protestant service he had violated the rules of his Church. He also believed that a more thorough system of separating men and women should be enforced, and on this subject he promised to present facts and figures before the committee.

Anna Donnelly and William Domino, who were in the prison for short periods of imprisonment, were examined, and detailed the circumstances connected with their arrest and trial. Kate Wilson, a self-committed inmate, testified that she was in the institution because she could get no work outside. The committee adjourned to Monday next, when they will investigate the management of the Tombs.

THE DROWNED MINISTER.

FUNERAL OF REV. DR. PORTEOUS—THE SERVICES IN ALL SOULS' CHURCH—THE REPORTS OF FOUL PLAY CONTRADICTED.

The funeral of Rev. Dr. Porteous, Pastor of All Souls' Church, Brooklyn, who was drowned at Sea Cliff on Tuesday last, took place in the church named yesterday afternoon. The religious services at 2 o'clock were participated in by a large audience, the church being crowded to its utmost capacity. The corpse of the unfortunate gentleman was in a plain coffin, on which many flowers were placed, a cross and crown of immortelles being noticeable. The funeral discourse was read by Rev. Dr. Nye, of the Church of Our Father, Brooklyn. The choral services were solemn and interesting, a special quartet having volunteered for the occasion. Selections of scriptures were read from the Psalms and from Corinthians, after which the choir sang the hymn commencing, "Nearer my God to Thee." Rev. Mr. Nye then addressed the large congregation present. He said it was a sad event which had called them together. He felt sure that she upon whom this blow had fallen so severely had the sympathy of all hearts present. The deceased was a man of remarkable gifts, but there was no need of pointing out the lessons which such a life might suggest. The speaker had at first hesitated to conduct the services then progressing. He was reluctant because only slightly acquainted with the deceased. But he remembered that one of the chief duties of a clergyman was to respond to every call where comfort and consolation were needed, and then he consented. He heard Dr. Porteous lecture when he first came to this country, and he recognized at once a man of great ability. The prospects of the deceased were never fairer or brighter than when his life suddenly went out. There was hardly any person who would not recognize his genius, his humor, wit, and manliness. He was a man of rare eloquence, as all who had ever heard him would admit. The speaker remembered best the humanity of the man whose corpse was before them. They would never know the struggles which actuated his inward life, nor of his aspirations not yet fulfilled. He was dead, and in the still bosom was locked forever the thoughts which filled his life. Of the deceased he could only say he was a man, and a man, in his opinion, was greater than any priest or any church. For the body of the man is the temple of the living God. The speaker could not say he was in entire sympathy with Dr. Porteous; but in that hour all differences vanished, and he was here because he believed in all churches. He believed in one brotherhood of the human race; one mediator only, Christ, the Saviour of all souls. Believing these things it was just that he should say something over the remains of one who gave the name of All Souls to the church in which they were assembled. Now their brother's work in this world was done. Whether it was well done or ill done it was not for them to judge. They were too imperfect themselves to sit in judgment upon their fellow-man. In conclusion the reverend gentleman spoke words of encouragement to the sorrowing widow, commending her to God's guidance in her hour of suffering. The coffin was then opened and the remains viewed by all present. Subsequently it was taken to Cypress Hill Cemetery, the disagreeable weather preventing all but a few personal friends from accompanying the funeral cortége.

The announcement in the morning papers of suspected foul play created considerable excitement among the parishioners of the deceased, and it was determined to examine the body to ascertain if wounds of any kind were visible. The examination was conducted by Mr. Joseph Bryan, undertaker, of Brooklyn. The closest scrutiny, however, failed to reveal any marks of violence, nor was there any mark whatever save a slight abrasion of the skin underneath the chin. This looked as if it had been done with a razor, doubtless by the deceased when shaving himself. There were some slight marks on the body, such as salt water would leave, but nothing more. The opinion was generally prevalent that the reports of possible violence are too absurd to be contradicted. All those who are spoken to on the subject are quiet certain that Dr. Porteous met his death by drowning, and not by intentional violence. Most of those interviewed think, however, that he might have been saved had proper steps been taken by those who witnessed the sad accident.

THE THIRD AVENUE SAVINGS BANK.

The position of affairs in connection with the closing of the Third Avenue Savings Bank remained unchanged yesterday, as far as related to any action of the Receiver, Mr. William S. Carman. This gentleman is awaiting the advice of the Supreme Court before proceeding to make out a statement and winding up the affairs of the defunct institution. The bank remained closed throughout the day, contrary to an announcement made on the previous day that it would have been opened for the purpose of furnishing any information desired by depositors as to its condition. The same notice which had been displayed on the door on Thursday, remained in its position, and was the object of much attention. Three policemen guarded the entrance and prevented the congregation of a crowd. With the exception of an assault on one of the clerks by an irate female depositor, no attempt at a demonstration was made, and considering that the bank has about 700 depositors, nearly 200 of whom are creditors of the institution to the amount of $2,000 each, the lack of that excitement which usually follows a suspension of the kind, is considered singular. In the absence of specific instructions, the Receiver has thus far taken no steps other than assuming control of the bank, and it is doubtful if his statement will be ready within a week, at least.

CIRCULATING FORGED CHECKS.

Jacob S. Barbour and William Young, the men who are charged with attempting to swindle the German National Bank of Newark out of $86,000 by means of forged checks, were placed on trial yesterday in the Essex County Court of Sessions. Edward S. Pisco, Secretary of the Trust Company in Worcester, Mass., was the first witness called. He testified that his signature on some of the checks, certifying that they were good, was a forgery, and that the company with which he was connected never certified checks, because it was contrary to law in Massachusetts; he did not know either of the prisoners, and Barbour never had an account with his company. Samuel Shaler, of New-York, whose name appeared on some of the checks, testified that it was forged. The Cashier of the Ninth National Bank of New-York, testified to the same effect in regard to his name. An important witness being absent, the case was then adjourned until Monday.

AN ORDER OF ARREST VACATED.

On the 20th of September Antoine Poullaine was arrested, under an order of arrest granted at the instance of Hill Gowdy upon a suit brought for the recovery of tobacco of the value of $25,000, which he alleged he had placed in the possession of Poullaine as a warehouseman, in 1864. Hill Gowdy, being at that time a citizen of Savannah, in the State of Georgia, and Poullaine a citizen of Augusta, in the same State, bonds were immediately given by Poullaine, and the order of arrest was vacated by Judge Van Vorst yesterday upon the ground that, in a suit heretofore brought by the plaintiff against the defendant for the recovery of the proceeds of the same tobacco, a verdict had been rendered for the defendant.

THE RAPID TRANSIT QUESTION.

The Rapid Transit Commissioners had another meeting yesterday, at which the plans and specifications of the proposed elevated road were, it is said, agreed to. Their report to the Mayor will be completed to-day, but will not be given out for publication until Monday. The exact description of the plan adopted by the board is not yet known, but it is rumored that the Third Avenue Railroad Company will not tamely submit to the construction of an elevated road over their tracks or along the avenue, and that all the opposition in their power will be given to it. The New-York Elevated Railroad Company and the Gilbert Railroad Company claim to be ready to construct the road, so that in a few days the public will learn whether the question of rapid transit is to be decided adversely or otherwise.
